American Forces Slowly Closing In on Cherbourg

YANKS TAKE BEACHHEADS ON SAIPAN ISLAND

Nimitz Reports Landing of Big American Force

Advance Inland Under Hot Fire

WASHINGTON, June 15 (AP)—American forces invading Saipan island in the Marianas have secured beachheads and are continuing inland despite artillery fire and enemy tanks, Admiral Chester W. Nimitz announced tonight.

"In general, fighting is heavy but good progress is being made against well organized defenses," Nimitz said.

The text of his communique, No. 50 of Pacific fleet headquarters:

"Assault troops have secured beachheads on Saipan island and are advancing inland against artillery, mortar and machine gun fire.

"Virtually all heavy coastal and anti-aircraft batteries on the island were knocked out by naval gun fire and bombing. Our troops have captured Agaña point. In the town of Charan, Kanoa, brisk fighting is continuing.

"The enemy has attempted several counterattacks with tanks. These attacks have been broken up by our troops with the support of ships and aircraft.

"In general, fighting is heavy but good progress is being made against well organized defenses."

Bombing Paves Way
Agaña point is on the southwestern tip of the island. Charan Kanoa is one of the few sizeable communities on the island.

The assault on Saipan, Japanese air and naval base, was launched Wednesday morning after intensive preparatory bombing and bombardment of it and neighboring Japanese defense points.

Adm. Chester W. Nimitz announced this most audacious move against Japanese territory shortly after the war department reported that super Fortresses of a strategic world-girdling air force had bombed Japan's homeland.

Huge Bombers Attack
The huge bombers, making their first attack of the war, flew from bases in the India-Burma-China theater, the war department said. No other details were given.

Nimitz reported the first landings on Saipan were made Wednesday morning under cover of a bombardment by United States warships and the bombing and strafing of carrier planes.

Additional assault forces were storming ashore despite enemy resistance. They were supported by carrier aircraft and the big guns of surface units, including battle wagons, cruisers and destroyers.

Fleet Task Forces Help
This bold move to advance American bases 1,100 miles west of the Marshall Islands climaxed four days of pre-invasion assault by powerful Pacific fleet task forces, starting last Saturday. The first day of the attack wiped out virtually all of the enemy's air force based in the southern Marianas.

Remnants of that air power and enemy shipping in and around the islands were disposed of Sunday and Monday. Then the invading forces turned their attention to obliterating enemy defenses in preparation for the landings.

Saipan, Tinian, Pagan, Rota and Guam islands, the latter the former American naval base, were well worked over in the preparatory stages of the attack.

Plan To Destroy Saipan
The American forces were described by their commander, Vice Adm. Richmond Kelly Turner, as the most experienced amphibious war fleet in the world. He told war correspondents prior to the landing that this thrust into Japan's inner defense lines was designed to destroy Saipan as an enemy base and convert it to Allied use.

William Worden, Associated Press war correspondent with the expeditionary forces, reported the press conference.

In invading Saipan, Turner's forces vaulted far beyond Truk, major enemy base in the Central Caroline Islands. When a firm hold is established on Saipan, it will place American forces 675 miles to rear (west) of Truk. Guam, southernmost of the Marianas, also would be outflanked.

Old Story to Turner
Storming enemy beaches is nothing new for Turner's forces. They

Introducing the B-29:

War Department Reveals Details Of the World's Greatest Plane

Billions of Dollars Being Spent in Big Plants To Produce Gigantic Four-Engine War Machine

By JAMES J. STREIBIG
Associated Press Aviation Editor
WASHINGTON, June 15 (AP)—The Boeing B-29 super-fortress is a global warplane backed by global authority and the greatest production program in history.

The War department today released much of the hitherto restricted information about the four-engine war machine which has had more advance notice than any other military airplane.

Disclosed along with the details of the plane was the formation of the Twentieth air force, an organization headed by Gen. H. H. Arnold, commanding general of the army air forces, and operating around the world with authority stemming directly from the joint chiefs of staff.

No Other Aircraft
The Twentieth was set up to employ the B-29's particular capacities. It has no other aircraft, and no other air force has any of the B-29's. Thus the super-fortress will be directed from Washington by the joint chiefs of staff.

Also disclosed was the extent of the production program for the B-29, an industrial plan involving billions of dollars and reaching into virtually every manufacturing center in America. Five great airframe factories are turning out the giant bomber on assembly lines; another huge factory building sub-assemblies ranks as a prime contractor, and another plant constructed to build the engines is the largest single factory unit in the world.

Production of other types of aircraft has been stopped in some plants so that facilities and manpower can be used in making B-29 sub-assemblies. The number of sub-contractors runs into the hundreds.

Flies Farther and Faster
The B-29 is described briefly as a bomber that flies farther, faster and higher with a greater load than any B-29's. Thus the super-fortress will

Capture of Last German Lifeline To Port Looms

Steady Advances On Other Sectors

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS ALLIED EXPEDITIONARY FORCE, Friday, June 16 (AP)—American troops slashing westward from Carcassonne on a ten-mile front have reached firm ground within six miles of La Haye Du Puits, junction of the last German-held rail-highway lifeline to the port of Cherbourg, and within four and one-half miles of the secondary junction point of St. Saver-Le-Comte in what was officially described today as "steady progress."

In the developing drive to cut off and capture the Cherbourg peninsula, similar steady advances were reported in a midnight communique from supreme headquarters for a less clearly-defined thrust through the lowlands between the Vire and Elle rivers south east of Carentan.

Believe Road Cut
This advance appeared to be aimed toward St. Jean De Daye, on the highway linking St. Lo and Carentan. Extent of the gain was not disclosed officially, but it appeared probable that the road already had been cut about five miles west of Lisieux.

On the extreme right flank of the Allies beachhead in Normandy, American capture of the coastal village of Quineville and surrounding territory was declared to have provided "a valuable new outlet from the beaches."

On the eastern, or left, wing of the beachhead, held by British and Canadian forces, violent German armored counterattacks were repulsed with what the Allied communique called "considerable loss to the enemy."

Offensive Gaining Force
These were the principal gains in the tenth day of the Allied invasion of France, which saw the offensive all along the 100-mile lines gather force and either gain ground or repel the fiery and repeated enemy counterattacks.

Right around the irregular front, starting on the northwest, this was the battle situation as the invasion went into its eleventh day:

QUINEVILLE: American right flank on the sea, scene of a seaway action in which the Americans took the town and scored local gains across the Quineville-Montebourg road.

MONTEBOURG: Still in German hands but increasingly outflanked on both sides by the American Fourth division which took Quineville and put the Montebourg-Vallons highway under heavy artillery fire.

PORT L'ABEE: Airborne Americans, four and one-half miles north-east of ST. SAVER-LE-COMTE, under rising enemy pressure, but holding firm.

Americans Reach Pretot
CARENTAN: American thrust westward now well across defensive flooded ground into firm land west of village of Baupre; Germans acknowledge Americans reached Pretot, three miles beyond Baupre and barely six miles from La Haye Du Puits; German Seventeenth motorized infantry division with some tanks crushed back in vain counterattack.

LISEUX: Allied Twenty-first army group headquarters discloses Americans advanced westward in Vire and Elle river areas nearly halfway across base of the Cherbourg peninsula. Particulars withheld. Lisieux, eleven miles inland, was taken last week.

CAUMONT: In Allied hands, with operations still in patrol stage but prospects of early expansion. Violent German counterattacks repulsed between Caumont and Tilly-Sur-Seuille.

VILLERS-BOCACQ: Scenes of increasing pressure from both sides, with town in German hands and Allies facing it on high ground quarter-mile distant across Seulle river.

TILLY - CAEN-TROARN ZONE: Heavy tank fighting, with Germans stopped in their tracks around Tilly and losing slightly between Caen and Troarn but still holding onto Troarn.

Both the Vichy radio and Allied correspondents in the field predicted a heavy new British-Canadian attack in the Caen sector.

Ross Munro, Canadian Press correspondent, said, "this campaign is sweeping to its first great climax, and big battles which would bring large armored formations into combat over the Normandy farmlands might be approaching rapidly."

Central Pacific aircraft in a two-way attack.

No further progress was reported in stalemated land fighting on Bikini island, in the Schooten group. American forces, holding Mokmer airdrome, have been halted in their advance toward two other airstrips on the islet.

Liberator bombers also blasted Yap island in the Caroline group for the first time during the night of June 13-14. Yap, formerly a major cable base in the Pacific, lies approximately 250 miles northeast of Palau, the eastern guardian of the Philippines.

No Confirmation, But Japs Admit Raid on Mainland

WASHINGTON, June 15 (AP)—America's new super Fortresses bombed Japan's homeland today and the Tokyo radio, acknowledging attacks, said industrial areas of Moji and Shinonoseki were hit.

In Congress, Rep. Starnes (D-Ala.) told his colleagues he had information there was "great destruction" in Tokyo. There was no confirmation of Starnes' report from the War department which did not disclose targets.

500 Miles from Tokyo
Moji is a city on Kyushu, southernmost of the main Japanese islands. Shinonoseki is on Honshu island just across a strait from Kyushu. They are about 500 miles, airline, from Tokyo.

An Imperial Japanese communique estimated the number of raiding planes at twenty and made the usual claims that they were intercepted and "repulsed." It said several were shot down and Dornier Japanese news agency said six were shot down.

The Japanese said both B-29 super Fortresses and B-24 Liberators were among the American planes.

Here, the only official information available late tonight was that attacks were carried out by B-29's flying from bases in the China-India-Burma theater.

The War department disclosed at 1:39 p. m., Eastern War Time, that the long-secret flying giants had gone into action. The announcement said:

"B-29 super Fortresses of the United States Army Air Force Twentieth Bomber Command bombed Japan today."

Flew from China Theater
To this was added some time later that the planes flew to the attack from the China-India-Burma theater.

Then Rep. Starnes (D-Ala.) arose in the House to tell his colleagues that the target of the raid was Tokyo proper. A good source informed him, he said, that a large number of American planes were causing "great destruction" in Tokyo.

It was the second American bombing of Japan, but the first announcement of action by the B-29's.

House and Senate sessions were halted for announcement of the news. Senator Pepper (D-Fla.) told his colleagues he was "sure the heart-felt thanks of Congress and the country go out" to those who made the attack possible. Rep. Mahon (D-Tex.) said the news vindicated the wisdom of Congress in furnishing funds for the Giant new bombers.

"Large Cities" Bombed
Rep. Manasco (D-Ala.) said the War department advised him the B-29's "bombed several large cities" on the mainland of Japan but there was no information yet on the results.

Manasco said the assumption could be the reference was made to Tokyo and Yokohama.

"It is now officially confirmed that American super Fortresses flying from remote bases have successfully bombed Tokyo in a very heavy raid," Starnes told the house.

"It can be safely assumed that these planes approached Tokyo at an altitude of more than 30,000 feet and a speed of more than 300 miles per hour with the heaviest bomb loads and the greatest armaments of any airplanes in the world."

New Day in Warfare
"This is a new day in warfare; and it will hasten the end of the war."

Starnes told newspapermen later that it could be assumed that, if the bombers went over their targets at 30,000 feet "the losses were negligible, if any, since at that distance they were higher than a Zero can fly and were about out of range of anti-aircraft fire."

Secretary of War Stimson said the bombings represented the beginning of another phase of the war in the Pacific, and declared that no corner of the Japanese homeland is now safe from attack.

Overcome Distance
"The new long-range bombers have overcome the tremendous barriers of distance to bring the heart of Japan under the guns and the (Continued on Page 2, Col. 1)

Dewey Reported Ready for Dash To Convention

Said To Be Ready For a Train Trip

(By The Associated Press)
Gov. Thomas E. Dewey was reported in friendly Albany quarters yesterday (Thursday) as ready for a quick train trip to the Chicago convention in event he is chosen the Republican presidential candidate.

The same sources said the 42-year-old governor is preparing a speech of acceptance at his farm near Pawling, N. Y., where he is spending a ten-day vacation. President Roosevelt set a precedent by flying to the Democratic convention for his acceptance speech in 1932.

The Republican convention starts June 26. Party officials have predicted a presidential nominee would be chosen June 26, or the third day of a four or five-day convention.

Kerr Named Keynote
While these Dewey reports persisted, an arrangements committee meeting in Chicago picked Gov. Robert S. Kerr, of Oklahoma, as the Democratic convention keynote and deferred until July 17 a recommendation for permanent chairman.

Kerr is a strong advocate of a fourth term for President Roosevelt.

While things were running smoothly at the Chicago Democratic meeting, an echo of the "white supremacy" issue stirring southern members of the party was heard at Montgomery, Ala. Gov. Chauncey Sparks sent telegrams to ten other southern governors asking "diligent efforts" be made at the national convention beginning July 19 to prevent adoption of platform proposals "contrary to the views and necessities of the South."

Sparks mentioned "social and political matters" and said the party should recognize the "inherent right of every state to control its internal affairs." He also called for nomination of a southerner for vice president.

Hoover To Speak June 27
It was disclosed that delegate contests at the Republican convention will involve forty-eight seats from eight states—Georgia, Maryland, Mississippi, North Dakota, Oklahoma, South Carolina, Tennessee, and Virginia. Few issues are involved of interest outside the states themselves. The entire delegation are contested in Georgia, Mississippi, North Dakota, and South Carolina.

In Chicago, Chairman Harrison E. Spangler, of the Republican National committee, said at a press conference that "anyone we nominate will be elected."

He added that Herbert Hoover, Alf M. Landon and Wendell L. Willkie—the last three GOP presidential candidates—had been invited to attend the convention and make suggestions for the platform if they desired. Hoover will address the convention June 27.

Allies in France To Stay, Stimson Tells Conference

WASHINGTON, June 15 (AP)—The Allies have now landed troops and supplies in France in numbers that leave slight chance that the Germans can throw the invasion forces back into the sea, it was indicated today by Secretary of War Stimson.

Saying a firm foothold has been gained, he told a news conference, "I believe we are there to stay until all of France is liberated and Germany is defeated."

De Gaulle Gives Orders to French Tells Civilians How To Carry On

LONDON, June 15 (AP)—Gen. Charles De Gaulle announced today that he had left instructions for administration of French civilians affairs during his visit to the Normandy beachhead, and this suggested an effort to eliminate the chief difficulty in British-American-French relations.

A communique issued through the French press service, emphasizing the "atmosphere of immense fervor" with which it reported De Gaulle was received in Allied-liberated towns Wednesday, said he gave directions "regarding organization of civil administration, resumption of supplies and public relief."

The instructions apparently were a step toward eliminating rough spots in the bid of De Gaulle's French committee of national liberation for full recognition as the voice of France.

De Gaulle returned to England today.

The communique referred to him as "president of the provisional government of the French republic," a term which still lacks acknowledgment by the United States and Britain.

5,000 Planes Blast German Key Positions

American Heavies Take Major Part

By AUSTIN BEALMEAR
SUPREME HEADQUARTERS ALLIED EXPEDITIONARY FORCE, Friday, June 16 (AP)—More than 5,000 planes, led by a mighty force of 1,300 United States Fortresses and Liberators, battered Nazi targets in France from the Normandy battlefields as far south as Bordeaux yesterday as the spectacular show of Allied aerial might continued through the tenth day of the invasion.

The American heavies were escorted by nearly 750 fighters in a series of attacks on plane assembly plants, airfields, and rail targets over a 300 mile-long stretch as far away as Bordeaux, while other fighters and medium bombers made repeated sharp attacks almost within sight of the Allied lines.

Out of this mighty daylight operation, three United States heavy bombers, one medium and four fighters were missing, headquarters announced. At least twenty-four enemy planes were shot down.

Air Opposition Is Spotty
The Fortresses and Liberators dropped an estimated 3,250 tons of bombs on dozens of targets in a thunderous follow-up to the night-time series of air blows of the war which the RAF cut loose last night.

German fighter opposition was spotty, most airmen reporting the sky clear of the enemy. One trio of RAF Spitfire squadrons, however, engaged thirty Nazis in one of the fiercest combats since D-Day and shot down eight of them while losing one plane.

The Nazis sent night raiders against England around midnight, the second night attack this week.

Indicating the massive Allied heavy bomber assaults were continuing through another night, the Berlin radio warned that enemy formations were approaching Northwest Germany.

De Gaulle returned to England today.

The communique referred to him as "president of the provisional government of the French republic," a term which still lacks acknowledgment by the United States and Britain.

American Liberator Lands in France

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS ALLIED EXPEDITIONARY FORCE, June 15 (AP)—With two engines out and the other two damaged, a flak-riddled American Liberator made a forced landing in France Tuesday, the first four-engine plane to land on ground wrested from the Nazis in western Europe.

Lt. Charles W. Grace, Kalamazoo, Mich., pilot, and Lt. Arthur L. Pritchard, Onaway, Mich., co-pilot, took the crippled bomber down to a field where Allied bulldozers were making a new landing strip.

Eight other crewmen who had bailed out were carried by their parachutes a short distance into the channel and were picked up immediately. All but one have been returned to their British base.

Giants Trim Dodgers

NEW YORK, June 15 (AP)—With Harold Gregg taking all the punishment, while issuing eleven bases on balls, and Mel Ott poling his seventh homer with two aboard, the New York Giants moved into a tie for third place with the Cincinnati Reds by trouncing the Brooklyn Dodgers, 9 to 2, before 22,758 fans tonight.

PHILADELPHIA, June 15 (AP)—The Phillies came from behind twice to win from the Boston Braves 5 to 4 at Shibe Park tonight.

bombs of the army air forces," he said in a statement.

"These giant battleships of the air are far superior to any plane our enemies have been able to develop. American engineering genius and American industrial skill have combined to create this powerful new weapon, capable of carrying the war to the most remote homeland of our enemies.

"They may well ponder when and where and how we shall use this mighty task force next.

"I congratulate the men who planned this action and manned the airplanes which carried it out. These pioneers have shortened our road to Tokyo."

other plane. Actual performance figures are secret, as with all war planes, but this much descriptive data has been released:

"The plane has a wing spread of 141.2 feet and a fuselage 98 feet long. Its single dorsal fin, resembling the tail of the B-17 Flying Fortress, stands twenty-seven feet high. The fuselage is cylindrical, the round nose reaching well forward of the narrow wing. It is a mid-wing design compared with the B-17's low wing and the high or shoulder wing of the B-24 Liberator.

The power, previously announced, comprises four Wright cyclone engines of 2,200 horsepower each, these being the same as the engines which pulled the Lockheed Constellation across the country in record transport plane time. The B-29 also has a tricycle landing gear with double wheels.

Wing Is Entirely New

The superfortress wing is an entirely new one, described by Boeing engineers as the "most efficient wing ever devised."

It carries the greatest load per square foot of any airfoil.

The four-bladed propellers, spanning sixteen and one-half feet, are the largest in use. Through gear connections to the engines they turn only one-third as fast as the engines, revolving slower than the propellers of any other plane.

With the exception of hydraulic boosters on the brakes, the plane is entirely electric, using 150 motors of forty-nine types. Auxiliary engines supply the electric power.

Carries Small Cannon

Armament comprises 50 caliber machine guns in multiple turrets and a 20 MM. cannon—the first American heavy bomber for which a cannon has been announced.

The B-29 is the most streamlined bomber in the world—so much so that the wind resistance is doubled when the landing wheels are down. Its silhouette is a combination of the Boeing stratoliner and the Flying Fortress.

It was first flown in an hour and twenty minute flight at Seattle, Wash., on Sept. 21, 1942. More than 8,000 hours of wind tunnel tests have gone into the B-29 and thousands of engineers were employed. Its pre-flight tests so impressed War department officials that a billion dollar production program was launched before the plane flew.

Although the superfortress is half again as large as the B-17, its take-off and landing speeds are about the same.

Crew Comfort Stressed

Crew comfort has been given special attention in an effort to have the men at peak efficiency in combat operations by avoiding much of the strain and discomfort resulting from long flights in older model bombers.

The Boeing plant at Wichita was chosen as the center of the early production program. Now, however, the B-29 is being turned out at Boeing plants at Seattle and Renton, Wash., at a huge new plant built for the purpose at Marietta, Ga., and operated by the Bell Aircraft Company, and in the Glenn L. Martin Company plant at Omaha, Neb.

The largest sub-assembly operation is in a plant at Cleveland, Ohio, operated by the Fisher Body Company. Sub-assemblies are being carried out at numerous other factories.

Co-ordination of the production job is carried out by a committee of representatives from Boeing, Bell, Martin and Fisher.

Nimitz Reports

have seen such action before many times. They will, however, be up against mobile enemy artillery for the first time, and against rough, formidable terrain. A larger land area will be involved, compared with the small atolls of previous invasions.

Planes dropping rockets with their bombs paced the assault forces to the beaches. Showers of rockets were directed against enemy guns and defenses by fast firing LCIS (infantry landing craft) and by other gunboats.

Use Rocket Planes

The operation was believed to be the most spectacular of the Pacific war, due to the major use of rocket firing planes and ships. These new weapons have been used previously in the Pacific only on a minor scale.

Many hours before Nimitz made his announcement the Tokyo radio said a landing attempt on Saipan had been beaten off by "accurate Japanese fire" which threw the invaders "into wild confusion."

It admitted that later Americans reached shore on both Tinian and Saipan. Nimitz has not mentioned a landing on Tinian.

Saipan is the second largest island in the 500-mile long Marianas chain. Westward lies a clear ocean sweep to the Philippines, Formosa and the China coast.

Would Provide Air Fields

Saipan is thirteen miles long by five miles wide. Unlike the narrow ribbon-like atoll islands of the Marshalls and Gilberts, Saipan's area of seventy-one square miles contains flat plateau land on which airfields large enough for sizeable air operations can be built.

The Japanese have been developing the island as a major air base and secondary naval point since a League of Nations mandate in 1920 gave Japan control of all the Marianas except Guam.

Before the war, Saipan's population included about 20,000 Japanese, most of them imported to work in the sugar cane fields. There were also 20,000 Chamorro natives and 800 blacks from the Carolines.

Garapan, largest town on the island, has a peacetime population of about 10,000. Before and since the war started, the Japanese probably made considerable improvement in Tanapag harbor, a small reef-enclosed anchorage on the western side of the island. It is likely they also developed Magicienne bay on the east coast.

Guests introduced by Sloan, who made brief talks were, Merle Townner, of Baltimore, who was lieutenant governor of the First division when the Cumberland club was organized, and who presented the charter to the club in 1924; and Charles Martin Wiegand, of Washington, D. C., present lieutenant governor of the First division who brought greetings from the Capital district of Kiwanis. Judge Sloan told of the early work of the club in underprivileged child work and said that the club has accomplished much in the community and predicted it will go forward through the years.

The toastmaster said thirteen charter members of the club were present last night and said that of the original sixty-three members nineteen have died. He announced that Lloyd Rawlings has missed only one meeting in eighteen years and Fred W. Flurshutz only one meeting in nineteen years. Both men, Sloan said, were absent in October 1942 during the last flood.

A program of dinner music was played by the Ferrone trio and Miss Josephine Williams sang two selections, "When I Have Sung My Songs" and "The Little Pig". Her father, Joseph Williams, accompanied her at the piano. Club singing was led by A. Florian Wilson and the invocation was given by the Rev. H. Hall Sharp, pastor of St. Luke's Lutheran church.

Special guests included, in addition to Donley and Townner, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Wiegand, Washington, D. C.; Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Allen, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Timmons, Cumberland, and J. Leon Bozman of Baltimore.

Celanese Is Granted Another Patent

Celanese Corporation of America this week was granted United States Letters Patent Number 2,351,174 which relates to coated fabrics such as artificial leather.

The novel coated material of this patent comprises a fabric base containing doubled yarns of filamentary cellulose derivative material, such as cellulose acetate, and filamentary material of non-plastic nature. Bonded to this fabric is a coating composition comprising a cellulose derivative, such as cellulose acetate. The resultant fabric is characterized by having an improved bond between the fabric base and the coating, and is eminently suitable for use as artificial leather.

Local 1874, TWUA, Indorses Fourth Term

Local 1874, Textile Workers Union of America, unanimously indorses a fourth term for President Franklin D. Roosevelt at a membership meeting held Wednesday in Textile hall, according to John E. Neal recording secretary of the local.

The TWUA local also instituted proceedings to draft the president for a fourth term if necessary. James A. Dondon, Algonquin hotel, national TWUA representative, was unanimously elected chairman of the CIO Political Action committee for the Sixth Congressional district, Neal reported.

A Legislative Victory Against Inflation

DEFEAT of the effort to banish price ceilings through amendments to the price control extension measure in the House of Representatives has been erroneously termed a "major victory" for the Washington administration. While that is what the administration sought, it could claim no special victory in the premises for the simple reason that without Republican action the result could not have been achieved.

It was a victory for common sense and against inflation, for if the price ceilings had been removed here and there, inflation would have gained entering wedges with disastrous consequences. Pressure groups had a big day of it and all but succeeded in breaking the anti-inflation wall by promoting this and that special-interest amendment running all the way from cotton textiles to watermelons and strawberries.

The country might get along well enough without watermelons and strawberries—heavens knows the people are already doing that in great extent with prices on these things as they are. Yet if melons and berries were exempted, then it would be reasonable to include cantaloupes, and if cantaloupes then why not rayons, or shoes or overalls or anything else needed by civilians?

A Republican member of the House, Representative Jesse P. Wolcott, of Michigan, who incidentally has been critical of the OPA in many respects, hit the nail on the head in discussing the watermelon and other like amendments. "It would be ideal," he said, "if we could guarantee everybody in the United States the same profit he got in that period of his life where he got the highest salary or received the most for his crops or the most from the product of his labor." But, "if we have Utopia in that respect we cannot have price control. We cannot have both."

OPA has had its faults administratively but the purpose back of price control is sound and necessary, and it has without doubt helped greatly to fend off the inflationary tendency. It can stand improvement but certainly it cannot be destroyed now.

Mr. Farley and the Vice Presidency

DEMOCRATIC REVOLT in the South is based primarily upon the issue of white supremacy, which was brought to a head by the recent supreme court decision on the Texas primary laws. It also has its roots in the opposition to the fourth term and to the vice presidential nomination.

Southern Democrats, conservatively inclined as against the New Deal radicalism, cannot swallow Wallace. They bear a deep-seated resentment to him as a second placer dating back to the time when he was picked by Roosevelt and John Nance Garner was thrown to the wolves.

So far as the fourth term is concerned, the southerners probably can get nowhere. Enough delegates have been tied and branded by the Roosevelt forces to settle that issue so far as the Democratic ticket is concerned. Neither the anti-Roosevelt nor the white supremacy movement will be able to get anywhere with the Democratic national convention.

But the delegates are not hog-tied with respect to the vice presidential nomination and the indications are that the sting of defeat over the fourth term but more especially the race question will bring about a real revolt with respect to that.

The growing opposition to Wallace has turned attention to other vice presidential possibilities. Among all of them it would be well to look to that fellow James A. Farley not as a candidate but as the real string-puller. He will be doing something important at the Democratic national convention. It has been stated that he recently resigned as New York state party chairman because he is even more opposed to the fourth term movement than he was to the third term, that his resignation was given in order to emphasize that opposition.

But Farley is too astute a politician to assume that there is any chance that Roosevelt will not be a fourth term candidate and that any other candidate, including possibly himself, will have a look-in. The real reason he resigned, to the notion of this newspaper, is that he wanted to be freed from the responsibilities and claims of organization loyalty which naturally shackled him as long as he was chairman of the Democratic state committee in Mr. Roosevelt's home state. Thus he will be free also to take a hand in the vice presidential nomination, and when the convention delegates assemble in Chicago Jim Farley will be there to wield a considerable influence in that respect. In fact, it is said that he has been preparing for this for a long time and that in doing so he did much to organize and direct the powerful anti-Roosevelt revolt in the South.

So, while FDR and the New Deal may find the way to ride rough shod over all opposition to the fourth term, it will be well to watch this fellow Farley with respect to what may happen otherwise.

The Battle For Changsha

INTEREST in the invasion of Europe has all but blinded some persons to operations in other theaters of war. As an antidote to great hopes for a rapid conclusion of the war against Germany, it is only necessary to look to China, where again a strong Japanese army is fighting for Changsha, key of Hunan province. Before this appears in print Changsha may have fallen.

This is the third time in six years that the Japs have tried to take the city. This time they may be successful—and continue into the Rice Bowl upon which the Chinese depend for much of their food. Here is a situation to cause the Allies grave concern.

If actual front conditions are considered, things are much better in India and Burma. The Japs at Kohima are on the run, and Allied troops have made advances at Imphal. Yet even here hopes of annihilating a large part of the enemy forces are dwindling.

The monsoon is hampering Allied operations, and although the Myitkyina airfield fell to Gen. Stilwell weeks ago, the Nipponese holding the city show unexpected resistance.

There is one factor which undoubtedly will encourage the Chinese to keep on fighting no matter what the odds. After seven years of the unequal struggle in China things for the moment look bad, but surely the Chinese can glimpse deliverance over the horizon.

Though conditions in Europe may change, there is strong evidence that Germany's defeat is drawing nearer. Then the whole armed might of the Allies will be directed against Japan.

Part of the Worry Should Be Banished

CHARLEY PIPER, JOE NAUGHTON and the others charged with direction of the Fifth War Loan campaign are considerably worried over the lag in the purchase of E, F and G bonds, particularly the E bonds, on which effort is centered, inasmuch as the quota for popular subscription in Allegany county is twice what it was in the last bond campaign.

Everybody else in the county should share their worry, too, and they should do something to alleviate it. There is cause for worry on the part of almost every citizen in the county about this war business. There is hardly a person in the county who is not affected by the prosecution of the war by the armed forces by reason of membership therein of one or more members of the family or other relatives. They are worried about the success and the welfare of these fighters, and are praying daily for their safety, their safe return home and, to that end, a speedier end of the war.

This anxiety is directly coupled with the War Loan drive. Purchase of these bonds means support of the men on the battlefield, a direct and potent help to their efforts. We can't get all of this worry about our boys over with, but we can banish this worry about supporting them through loans needed to furnish them with their equipment and their armament by purchasing the bonds. Alleganyans cannot let them down now at this critical stage of the war.

Perhaps it's just a coincidence but in voting to change its label and go out of existence as a separate political party the Communists followed the example set by President Roosevelt when he announced that the New Deal no longer existed and requested that the label be dropped.

If the Watch on the Rhine isn't any more alert than was the Watch on the Channel, it may not be too long before we fix the Nazis' clock.

Another good old American phrase which may be doomed to extinction is that one about a "tough customer."

Confessions

By MARSHALL MASLIN

I like to do the right thing but I don't like to be nudged into doing it.

What I like to remember about one little girl is her sweet amazement that first time she saw an orchestra making music. She amused an entire restaurant with her delight.

Whenever I see the ocean after being away from it for a while I think of the first time I saw it and I know how those ancient Greek soldiers felt when they shouted: "The sea! the sea!" . . . Joy flooded them and their hearts were like to burst.

When I was a lad, I used to visit thirty-six saloons once a month to collect newspaper subscriptions. . . . No bartender ever tried to get me to take a drink.

My secret here in those days was the town gambler.

The only time I ever have any "inspirations" is when I'm sitting in front of a typewriter and trying hard to have one.

If I close my eyes and think of war, I remember a sunny morning in France and the stink of a battlefield and I see a thousand French soldiers, blinded by gas, stumbling through the fields and helping each other back from the horror of the front line.

I have never taken my own temperature. (I am rarely able to read a fever thermometer).

Theoretically I have small faith in doctors. Actually I believe everything they tell me.

I suspect flattery but who am I to examine it too closely.

It takes some time for a baby to learn the word "I," but once he acquires it, he doesn't forget it.

Peace Plan Job By Legislators Is Still Unfinished

By CENTRAL PRESS

WASHINGTON. — Published reports that Secretary of State Cordell Hull and the special bi-partisan Senate Foreign Relations subcommittee virtually had reached an accord on the principles to govern the post war peace organization have not been borne out by subsequent developments.

Members of the eight-man subcommittee, named by Chairman Tom Connally (D) of Texas, of the Senate Foreign Relations committee, are maintaining an exceptionally close silence about what is going on.

But such comments as they are letting drop reveal that a difficulty is present, rather than an easy pathway which was intended to lie ahead in the negotiations regarding the master peace plan.

Some senators who are studying peace machinery proposals reluctantly say that they are doubtful that Hull and the subcommittee will reach an agreement on the peace plan. At that same time, the hope is entertained by others that some kind of general understanding can be achieved.

Statement Likely

If an understanding is worked out, even though it is only a "face saver," it is probable that a carefully worded statement will be issued.

It is clear that President Roosevelt is anxious to move forward as rapidly as possible with the working out of a post war peace organization.

But the United States will not decide until the November elections are held who will handle its part of the job. Moreover the attitude of Russia is a source of concern and doubt to many senators. These senators feel that, until the major unknown factors have been better clarified, little more than spade work can be done on the peace organization.

German Mystery

Supporters of air power are puzzled over Germany's ability to continue its many-fronted war under the terrific bombing and strafing that its industries and communications have suffered during the past few months.

Air experts are not ready to admit that air power has failed and they want to withhold judgment until the end of the war when the current round-the-clock air offensive can be evaluated in the proper light.

The true facts in the case are that there never has been such a war in history and no nation has suffered the amount of block-busting bombing that has fallen on the Nazis and their satellites since the armageddon of the air began.

Cumulative Effect Seen

Air experts are hoping that the destruction wrought in the past few months has had a cumulative effect which will gradually weaken the Germans at the fighting front, where the final test will come with bayonet, shell and grenade at invasion time.

Despite the fact that no answer to the question seems forthcoming in the immediate future, the bombings will continue unabated and on an ever-increasing scale before, during and after the invasion armies of liberation have landed.

Military historians will have a terrific job finding the answer to their effectiveness from German records and eye-witness testimony once the Nazis are finally crushed.

Postwar Tokens

What to do with ration tokens after the war, or whenever all rationing ends, is a question puzzling the Office of Price Administration.

Some officials have said the problem appears so remote that they have not gotten down to genuine consideration of it yet, but they admit they have not any idea just what course they will take.

One suggestion is that they see whether the tokens have any salvage value and, if they have, dispose of them in that manner. They might be stored, but OPO does not think it would be exactly politic to put them away. The question would arise as to why they are being saved.

"What for?" the American people would ask. "What for—the next war?"

Wrong Time To Cash In

From the Pittsburgh Press

If aircraft production, or ship-building, suddenly dipped by 30 per cent, the success of our war plans would be endangered. If farmers were to produce 30 per cent less food this year, millions of persons would have to pull in their belts. The loss of 30 per cent of the territory we've taken in the Pacific would mean a military disaster.

The job of buying—and holding—war bonds is also important, although less dramatic than those critical phases of the war effort. Bonds provide the means by which each of us can buy a piece of the war and help finance its cost. They keep our money intact, at interest, at a time when that same money could boost prices to the point where money would lose its value.

Yet, holders of E Bonds last month cashed in a record total of $271,714,318—30 per cent of the $713,807,992 in sales for the month. The reasons aren't hard to find; we've been in war 2½ years, taxes are high, cost of living is up, and still people are making money and they want to spend it.

The temptation to cash in War Bonds, however inviting, comes at the wrong time, with our armed forces launched on the invasion and the future course of the war to be determined. Support of the war effort, by those of us who stay at home, is as vital now as it ever was.

We've done a good job of buying War Bonds—55 million individuals have pitched in 27½ millions through regular payroll deductions. But buying them isn't enough. The buyer must hold his Bonds if he is to make his money count in the war.

Removing Worry

From the Connellsville, Pa., Courier

Naturally, the folks back home worry over the boys in the service, particularly those at the battle front and those soon to be involved in the titanic struggle. But what about the boys themselves? What about those who have wives and babies at home? What of those who have not seen their new-born? Of those who have been deprived of the companionship of wives for two to three years?

It is evident on the face of it that a soldier can't do his best when he's worried about his family, or, as he knows, his family is worried about him. The military authorities realize this. At Camp Reynolds at Greenville, Pa., they are doing something about it.

Personal problems, family crises, financial difficulties—these get prompt attention from the camp's the first news, prepare itself for unforeseen contingencies and await the success or failure of the trial and error moves mentioned above. It may be some weeks before sufficient information is at hand to make any real forecasts.

Supply and Demand Law Functions

Without any qualifications, I can safely impress upon my readers at this time that prices of stocks, bonds, commodities or real estate will depend upon whether there is an excess of sellers or an excess of buyers. Irrespective of theories, or irrespective of precedents, and irrespective of wars, panics, politics or administration controls, when there are more buyers for stocks, bonds, commodities and real estate than there are sellers, then prices will go up; conversely, when there are more sellers than buyers prices go down.

There is, of course, one other factor in this situation, namely, the position which results when buyers and sellers are about equal. In such a case, neither invasion nor any other factor would materially affect prices. Under this condition, however, the tendency would be for certain selected stocks to go forward. Bonds would remain about as they are. Commodities would decline and productive real estate would continue its upward move. The demand for residential real estate, I should also expect to continue in volume. Personally, for the time being, I am not inclined to see any great change one way or the other, although I continue extremely optimistic on the long-pull outlook for all except high-grade bonds.

Bullish or Bearish Position?

In my talks with experts since the invasion started, there seems to be two lines of thought which are quite different. Some feel that early Allied successes will bring about a "peace scare". This would be especially bearish on railroads, heavy industry and other war stocks; yet some market analysts are taking the opposite position. They are inclined to be bullish on everything whether the Allies are initially successful or meet with heavy reverses.

It may be that the pattern of this great invasion will follow that set in the Italian campaign. There it took months to land sufficient supplies and men, but once these were ashore progress has been most rapid. There will necessarily be many trial and error sorties in the invasion plan. The markets took the initial news in their stride and in an optimistic manner. Naturally, the actual invasion was discounted, but there was no way for the stock market to discount whether the initial move would be successful or not. Now, that we are over the first hurdle, the market must digest personal affairs branch. For example: There was the soldier's mother who needed emergency aid to meet hospital bills; the soldier's wife with the new baby but only a B. C. (before child) allotment; the discharged veteran who was having trouble finding a job. The branch sees to it that something is done.

According to Captain H. F. Moore, personal affairs officer at the camp, the majority of dependents cases handled in the past four weeks fell into six groups: Emergency financial aid, legal assistance, hospitalization, disposal of personal property, mental readjustment for families of recent inductees, and last but by no means least, advice on allotments.

With his personal problems out of the way, the average soldier finds it a good deal easier to concentrate on the war.

House Division Is Seen as Argument For British Plan

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, June 15.—The Democratic party with 216 members no longer has a majority of the House of Representatives, while the Republican party, with 212 members, has strength nearly equal to that of the Democrats. Recent elections to fill vacancies have diminished the Democratic total.

But the public would hardly expect that the two major parties are so closely divided in the lower house of Congress.

Certainly very little has happened since the present Congress took office in January, 1943, to indicate that the Republicans, as a whole, have developed a program that can be readily identified by observers. While there has been opposition from time to time by the Republicans who voted in a bloc, it would be difficult to discover by the reading of the record just what the Republican party would do if it had complete control of the machinery of the House of Representatives.

Whether the subject is labor or agriculture or taxation or price control or the Montgomery Ward case or any one of a number of issues that are supposed to be close to the hearts and minds of the people, the Republicans have done little to manifest how they would handle these matters if they really had the majority.

Pussyfoot Role

The Republican party in the House has played the same pussyfoot role which has so often been adopted in past years by the minority party on either side of the political aisle. The strategy is to avoid commitments on major issues and appear to be friendly to all groups in the hope that the minority party will be the beneficiary at the point of all the protests and dissatisfactions of the people over the legislative acts of the majority party.

Under the existing constitutional system, it is thus possible for a minority party to come within five votes of actually being a majority in the House of Representatives and yet escape all responsibility for the action of the House. That is why the term "responsible government" is so often used to describe a parliamentary system where a powerful minority, or one that divides power with the opposition side, has been virtually compelled by public opinion to assume responsibility in the cabinet. If the parties were almost as equally divided in Canada, Britain or Australia, as they are in the House of Representatives today, a coalition government would be in power in the executive branch. There need then to have been no election in the midst of the invasion campaign.

War Program Supported

It is true, of course, that the Republicans have supported the major war programs and particularly the appropriations for military purposes. On these there have been virtually unanimous votes. But on the issues which divide the country, particularly questions growing out of administrative bureaucracy or misuse of public power, as in the War case, the Republicans have preferred to maintain a politically safe silence. Indeed, to speak out forthrightly is considered unwise on the eve of an election. Governor Dewey's candidacy, for example, has managed to draw support from many elements, because the New York governor has kept his views on specific questions very much to himself.

The party in power, however, has not hesitated to commit itself to particular positions on domestic issues.

Possible Inference

There is, of course, a possible inference from all this that the Democratic position is much stronger than the Republicans would like to admit. Certainly if the Republican party is afraid to make an issue on certain domestic questions, it could be construed to mean that the Democratic position has considerable popular support. The behavior of the Republican party in the House of Representatives appears to be more an admission that the Democratic position on various issues is much more likely to receive public support at the polls than the Republicans care to concede at this time.

Some day the idea of "responsible government," which enables the people to check both legislative and executive branches as the case may be, by compelling or threatening an election at any time—the parliamentary system used in Canada and Australia—may prove even more advantageous than it appears at present. For while the change is fundamental, it may be the only way in the end that the people, as a whole, can exercise a check upon the growing powers of the central government.

CAN'T KEEP GRANDMA IN HER CHAIR

She's as lively as a Youngster—
Now her Backache is better
Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headache and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Allies Capture Three Important Italian Towns

German Defenses Reported Broken

ROME, June 15 (AP) — Bursting through another line of defenses hastily thrown up by the retreating Germans beyond Rome, Allied forces have captured the large Italian towns of Orvieto, Aquila and Narni in a general advance and were fighting tonight in the outskirts of the important industrial and communications center of Terni, forty-five miles north of the capital. American troops shoving up the Tyrrhenian coast captured Magliano and threatened Bengodi, only fourteen miles from Grosseto, after having seized vast quantities of Nazi food supplies at Orbetello. They had entirely cleared lateral highway 74, running inland from the coast past the northern shore of Lake Bolsena.

Eighth army columns, now carrying the brunt of the inland advance fought their way into Orvieto fifty-seven miles northwest of Rome. Narni, forty-one miles due north of the capital, and Aquila, fifty-four miles to the northeast, above Avezzano. Lt. Gen. Sir Oliver Leese's forces were checked temporarily on the outskirts of Terni by blown bridges and a stiff German counter-attack.

(Secretary of War Stimson said elements of the shattered Fourteenth army. There was conjecture again had collapsed before the Fifth army's drive, and commented that the enemy could not send further reinforcements to Italy without affecting other fronts.) It was reported that fresh German divisions had reached Italy, but Allied forces driving north and northwestward from Rome still were encountering only rearguard the use of cavalry to check Allied vanguards, and the accurate and heavy fire of their mobile artillery played a big part in slowing the advance of the Fifth and Eighth armies in recent days. Today's Allied communique said the enemy's stiffened resistance "has been at least temporarily overcome," and that "important gains have been made all along the front."

Miss Verna Dale Stemple Is Honored with Party

Honor Guest Is Fiance of Ensign P. H. Whitford, of Deland, Fla.

Mrs. James E. Stemple and her daughter, Mrs. James Morgan, Frostburg, entertained in honor of Miss Verna Dale Stemple, with a surprise miscellaneous shower last evening at the former's home, 614 Maryland avenue.

Miss Stemple, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Stemple, is the bride-elect of Ensign Paul H. Whitford, Deland, Fla., son of Mr. and Mrs. Hobart Whitford, Arundel avenue.

The bride-elect is a graduate of Fort Hill high school, class of 1941 and attended Catherman's Business school. She is employed at the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company.

Ensign Whitford was graduated from Fort Hill with the class of 1942 and prior to his enlistment in the navy in February 1943, he was employed at the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company. He received his training at St. Mary's college, Emmitsburg, Md., Pensacola, Fla., and Deland.

A blue and white color scheme was carried out in the wrappings of the shower gifts and was repeated in the appointments of the table, which was centered with a three tiered white cake, adorned with an Ensign and his bride. Covers were laid for thirty guests. Bouquets of assorted flowers elaborately decorated the home.

West Side School Presents Awards

The final exercise of the Sixth grade of the West Side school was given yesterday afternoon and awards were made by Miss Dorothy Shires, principal, who also gave the awards.

A scholarship award was given to Marcia Hilton and Janet Wilson; the best Safety Patrol leader award, to Joseph Miller and the best attendance in six years to Deloris Bernal, who was absent only one day in that time. The music, attendance and library reading certificates were also presented to members of the Fourth, Fifth and Sixth grades.

The class history from the First grade through the six years was given by Gordon Sawin, Janet Wilson, Thomas Oglebay, Ruth Hersch, Mary Elizabeth Erling, Caroline Ryan, Jean James, Hugh Browne, Marcia Hilton, Bryan Shepp, Joseph Miller and Norma Jean Carder. The class will be read by Robert Hutchison, Deloris Shuss and Olivia Yancey; and Joann Stangel read the class prophesies.

William Doub announced the program which included the group singing of "Cradle Song," "To a Wild Rose," "There's a Tavern in the Town," and "Auld Lang Sang." Accordion selections were played by Shirley Hensley and Richard Fox; a clarinet solo by Thomas Oglebay and the piano numbers were played by Sondra Schindler, Greta Hicks, Marjorie Carder, Pauline Likens and Janet Wilson.

Quota Is Exhausted

The quota for Grade 1 tires for June has been exhausted, attaches of War Price and Rationing Board No. 2311 announced yesterday. Applications submitted in May are still on file and will be processed in the order applications were received when additional quotas are received.

There are about 1200 motion picture theaters in Canada.

Allegany Class of 1927 Compiles History at Seventeenth Reunion

A history of the Allegany high school class of 1927 was compiled at the seventeenth reunion of the class held in the form of a dinner at Central YMCA, with Donald T. Shires at toastmaster. The record revealed that twenty-four of the 157 members of the class are in the armed forces with a minimum of eight serving overseas; 136 married members have 130 children. Plans were formulated to send an account of the reunion to members in the service.

Charles L. Kopp, superintendent of schools, who was principal of Allegany high school in 1927; and Miss Kathleen Cumbs, Fort Hill faculty member, and teacher at Allegany in 1927, were the speakers at the dinner.

Greetings were sent to the class by Mrs. Gladys Apple Pitzer, Washington, D. C., and Capt. James A. Aviret, Camp Pickett, Va. Miss Marion Rosenmeyer was chairman of arrangements and was assisted by Mrs. June Farrin Porter.

Farm Bureau Will Form Women's Association

St. John's Will Open Church School Monday

The Daily Vacation Church school of St. John's Lutheran church, Fourth and Arch streets will begin at 9 o'clock Monday morning. Studies will be conducted for children from 4 to 16 years of age, the Rev. Edward P. Heinze, pastor, announces.

The beginners will study, "We Are Jesus' Children," under the leadership of Mrs. William Aronhalt, Mrs. Charles Davy and Mrs. Charles Growden. Under the guidance of Mrs. Marie Stummaker, Mrs. Carl Reuschel, Mrs. Griffith Hansen, Mrs. Leo Bartik and Miss Norma Avers the primary children will study, "The Children of the Bible." Mrs. Edward Heinze, Mrs. Wilson Couters and Mrs. Robert Myers will teach the junior children, the "Bible People and How They Lived." The intermediates, under the direction of Miss Francis Aronhalt will study, "This Is My Church."

Mrs. A. D. Roth is general superintendent of the school and the Rev. Mr. Heinze is the dean.

Plans were formulated at the meeting of the Allegany County Farm Bureau Planning Group No. 1 will be organized at a luncheon-meeting to be held at 1:30 o'clock June 29 at the Central YMCA, under the sponsorship of the Group No. 1. Mrs. John Flock, Baltimore, district chairman of the Maryland Branch of the Associated Women of America Farm Bureau Association, will be here to assist in the organizing of the association. Her district includes Allegany, Garrett, Frederick and Washington counties. Mrs. Calb White, Rawlings, will be in charge of the meeting. Thirty "key women" of Allegany county have been invited to attend, Mrs. White said.

Plans were formulated at the meeting of the Allegany County Farm Bureau Planning Group No. 1, Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. G. C. Shoemaker, Rawlings, with M. S. Heiskell presiding. Rawlings were also made for a picnic preceding the next meeting. It will be held at 7 o'clock July 12 in Constitution park.

Hugh Stevenson was leader of the discussion, Wednesday evening, and his topic concerned the social security for farmers and farm laborers, as set forth in the volume 7 No. 6 of the planning group.

Girl Scouts To Form Choral Club in Fall

The Girl Scout program committee held its final meeting of the season in the form of a luncheon-meeting Wednesday at the All Ghan Shrine Country Club with Mrs. Arthur C. Bright presiding. Mrs. Morris Barnes, commissioner, was guest of honor.

A Girl Scout choral club will be organized in the fall, Mrs. Bright announced. It will be composed of two representatives of each Brownie, Intermediate and Senior troop; and membership will be competitive in each troop.

Miss Pearl Garbirk will train and direct the club members, who will wear medieval attire. The club will learn Christmas carols and will prepare programs to be given during the holiday season. It will also represent the Girl Scouts in the usual Christmas caroling, after which a Christmas party will be held at the little house for scouts of all troops.

Plans were formulated at the meeting of the Allegany County Farm Bureau Planning Group No. 1, Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. G. C. Shoemaker, Rawlings, with M. S. Heiskell presiding. Rawlings were also made for a picnic preceding the next meeting. It will be held at 7 o'clock July 12 in Constitution park.

Hugh Stevenson was leader of the discussion, Wednesday evening, and his topic concerned the social security for farmers and farm laborers, as set forth in the volume 7 No. 6 of the planning group.

Selective Service Will Aid Veterans, Stanwood Asserts

The part Selective Service will play in returning war veterans to civilian status was discussed by Col. Henry C. Stanwood, state director of Selective Service, at a meeting of representatives of Boards of five Maryland counties held Thursday evening in Hagerstown. New changes in Selective Service regulations were discussed in detail by members of the state Selective Service staff. The state director asserted that it is the responsibility of Selective Service to see that returning servicemen get their own jobs back and promised that Selective Service personnel will co-operate with all agencies and committees which are aiding returning veterans.

System Is Changed

Beginning July 1, the board representatives were told, all registrants who pass pre-induction physical tests will be placed in a central pool and will not know, until they report for induction, to which service they will be assigned. Previously, registrants were "earmarked" for the army, navy or marine corps at the time they were examined.

In a discussion of neuro-psychiatric cases, Major James I. Moore, Maryland medical director of Selective Service, enumerated the different types of cases and revealed that local boards are now reviewing men of the 18 through 25 age group who have been rejected as psychoneurotic.

Cases Are Reviewed

A certain number of such cases, he declared, are found to be acceptable. County welfare field workers have been appointed to make case histories of persons rejected for neuro-psychiatric conditions, it was reported. Careful study and classification by the state medical advisory board will undoubtedly result in satisfactory reports.

Hagerstown Selective Service officials were hosts at a dinner attended by the fifty odd representatives. Twelve representatives from Allegany county were included in the conference.

Building Restrictions Still in Effect; WPB Representative Says

Explaining that building materials are still lacking and that manpower is short, V. A. Rogerson, branch manager of the Clarksburg W. Va., office of the War Production Board, said yesterday that restrictions on construction work continue to be in effect.

Here for priority interviews at the office of the chamber of commerce, Rogerson pointed out that all residential construction without a WPB permit is limited to $200. Non-residence farm construction is limited to $1,000. Granting of permits for construction in excess of these amounts depends on how essential the work is in relation to the war effort, he said.

City Policemen To Start Pistol Practice Monday

Pistol practice for Cumberland's city policemen will get underway on Monday, James Orr, commissioner of police and fire, announced yesterday, with teams of the three platoons to practice at least once a week on the department's pistol range in Constitution park.

Captains for the three platoons will be Lt. James E. Van, first platoon, Officer John H. Newhouse, second platoon, and Lt. Detective R. Emmett Flynn, third platoon.

The second platoon will be the first to get practice, being scheduled to fire on Monday. Platoon one will fire on Tuesday and the third platoon on Wednesday.

A team to represent the department in matches with other organizations will ultimately be selected from the officers with the highest marksmanship records, Orr said.

Blood Bank Quota Will Be Met Today Workers Predict

Mobile Unit Will Begin Operation at 9 o'Clock This Morning

This week's unbroken record of filled quotas was continued at the American Red Cross Blood Donor unit yesterday. Joseph H. Cromwell, chairman, announced last evening, and staff workers were confident that the last day of the visit of mobile unit will be a successful one.

The unit will begin operations at 9 o'clock this morning and will close at 2 o'clock so that equipment can be packed into the truck. The scheduling committee has slightly overscheduled in order to insure a full quota for the last day.

Contingents from the Allegheny

Baltimore and Ohio railroad here are scheduled as donors today and a number of persons have assured the committee that they can be at the unit within a matter of a few minutes if they can be fitted into the schedule.

Groups Donate Blood
Yesterday's group donors were from the Celanese plant and the Cumberland and Allegheny Gas Company. Sixty-five Kelly staff employees and at least an equal number of plant workers have become donors. Six members of the Maryland State Police have donated blood and all those stationed at the LaVale sub-station hope to give blood while the unit is here.

George M. Leib headed the Veterans of Foreign Wars group which helped in the transportation and packing of the blood yesterday afternoon.

Five of the clergy of St. Peter and Paul Catholic church were donors yesterday. All except those who were ill or under 18 have given blood during the past two weeks.

Unit May Return
E. W. Lease, chairman of the Woodmen of the World Blood Bank committee, was a donor yesterday and reported that of the twenty-four members of the lodge who volunteered, nineteen have given blood and the other five are in the armed forces.

One Valley road girl, unable to get a taxi to come to the unit yesterday, called the unit and asked to have her appointment held, as she was going to run to catch a bus.

Although the unit is scheduled to visit a number of Maryland cities and army camps, it is hoped that arrangements can be made to bring the unit back to Cumberland in the fall, Cromwell said.

Whitelaw Describes New Gas Appliances For Postwar Homes

Winter and Summer Air Conditioning Systems Perfected, He Says

Gas ranges with automatic clock control, air cooled gas refrigerators which require no servicing, winter and summer air conditioning systems, and compact gas kitchen units have been designed by American manufacturers and will be available after the war, H. Leigh Whitelaw, New York city, managing director of the Association of Gas Appliances and Equipment Manufacturers said yesterday.

Speaking at the sixth meeting of the Peoples Home Ownership Savings Club in the city hall auditorium at 8 p. m., Whitelaw said that recent advances which have been made in perfecting natural gas appliances for the home will go into increasing mass production as soon as the war ends and vital materials are released to manufacturers by the WPB.

The newly devised winter and summer air conditioning of homes by gas requires only one piece of equipment, plus a system of ducts in the walls of the home. Whitelaw said, adding that only three switches need be thrown to change the air conditioning mechanism from winter heating to summer cooling. The system is economical, he explained, for there is no cooling unless the temperature of the home demands it.

Insulation Is Helpful
"Installation cost and equipment cost of heating and air conditioning units differ with each individual home, but insulation is very helpful in cutting heating costs," Whitelaw said.

Explaining that he could not describe the new appliances fully because manufacturers were not disclosing details of their construction for competitive reasons, Whitelaw said that the smallest gas heating plant now being developed would cost $500, and that the cost of larger units would increase according to their size.

He estimated that the original installation cost of a gas heating system would be approximately twice as high as the bare cost of coal, but he emphasized the point that gas heating was cleaner than coal heating and required much less servicing than the latter.

Whitelaw described a "co-ordinated kitchen" whose mechanical equipment could be installed in homes without basements. All of the required units, including an automatic water and storage heater, a gas range with automatic clock control and an air-cooled gas refrigerator could be installed in a small space in the kitchen, he said, adding that the equipment included a mechanism to eliminate cooking odors and the accumulation of tiny grease drops on the walls, an unrecognized fire hazard in many homes today.

Pipeline To Augment Supply

Declaring that there will be plenty of natural gas to meet all postwar needs, Whitelaw said that a new pipeline from Texas, the source of seventy-five per cent of the country's natural gas reserves, to Charleston, W. Va., would be completed this fall. The pipe line has been designed to augment the diminishing supply in the Appalachian area.

Whitelaw was introduced by Harold Fletcher, chairman of the home ownership savings club, the first of its kind to be founded in the country. The club was organized last August for those who wished to set aside their savings toward the building of new homes after the war.

The next meeting of the club will be held in the middle of July. The date and the speaker will be announced later.

Garage and Kitchen Permits Are Issued

Two building permits were issued yesterday by the city engineer.

H. T. Grahame obtained a permit for the erection of a frame kitchen on the rear of the dwelling at 216 Willow Brook road at a cost of $200.

Ambrose Lawrence received a permit for the construction of a one-story frame garage covered with composition siding on the present foundation in the rear of 131 Cumberland street. The cost is estimated at $100.

Silicosis Victim Appeals Decision Of State Commission

No decision was reached by Associate Judge William A. Huster in circuit court yesterday in an appeal by George Allen from a ruling of the state industrial accident commission denying him compensation payments for silicosis he said he contracted while working as a miner for the Big Vein Coal Company.

Testimony disclosed that Allen stopped work as a miner in April 1942 because of silicosis, and his attorney, Edward J. Ryan, declared that the state medical board named to hear compensation cases ruled he had contracted silicosis.

The state accident fund, however, appealed to the state industrial accident commission which denied the payment of compensation to Allen.

The Big Vein Coal Company and the state accident fund, defendants in the case, were represented by Harry I. Stegmayer, attorney, and Douglas Bowie, Jr., a member of the attorney general's staff.

Dr. Robert H. Riley Pays Visit Here

Dr. Robert H. Riley, director of the Maryland State Department of Health, paid a visit to the local health department offices in city hall yesterday, en route to Berkeley Springs, W. Va.

Dr. Riley organized the Allegheny County Health Department about twenty-three years ago. His headquarters are now in Baltimore.

Kirke L. Simpson Says:

Raids by Super-Bombers Indicate Start of Drive To Crush the Japs

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON
Associated Press War Analyst

At the very moment when an ominous crisis for Germany is developing swiftly on the Normandy invasion front in Europe, Washington disclosed that the long-awaited first super-bomber attack on Japan has begun with no less grim portents for Hitler's Nipponese accomplices.

The big ships, exceeding in range of action, bomb load, operating ceiling and defensive power any yet employed in the war, struck from somewhere in the "Burma-India-

China" theater. That is all the information officially revealed for security reasons. Yet the mere fact that this new weapon is now available materially alters the whole strategic picture in Asia in Allied favor.

Warning to Japan

It puts Tokyo on stern notice that the heart of Japan's war effort, her home factories, railroads, harbors and shore naval installations, is now vulnerable. On three sides of her from the Aleutians south to China Allied forces by sea, land and air are forging a lethal ring.

Her people can turn only to the north toward passive Russia without dread that any moment may see death and destruction come down upon them from the air. Nowhere else in the shriveling Nipponese conquest sphere is it certain that today, tomorrow, next week there may not develop that long-range concentric super-bomber air attack on selected targets pictured by General Marshall, chief of staff, in a statement explaining how this powerful, new Allied weapon will be used.

Built To Fight Japs

There is no question that the B-29 bombers were conceived, designed and brought into quantity production primarily for use against Japan.

They are an American answer to Japan's now tottering ambition to rule the eastern world by force behind the shelter of the seized islands of the Western Pacific from the Kuriles to New Guinea and a Nipponese grip on Continental Asia and the Dutch Indies. The current naval operations against Saipan and other islands in the Marianas were another evidence of the tightening noose.

It was through dread of this moment that the desperate Japanese Honan offensive in China was launched.

That represented Japanese belief that it was there, somewhere in the depths of unconquered China, that the great air battleships were being mobilized.

No performance data on the super-Fortresses is yet available, but lesser ships both in Europe and in Asia have laid down shattering bomb barrages repeatedly far more than 1,000 miles from their take-offs.

There can be no certainty in Tokyo that while these first big bombers hit from somewhere far to the southwest of Japan, the next bomb cargo to fall on Japan might not take the air in the Aleutians; far out in the Central Pacific or from deep in the South Pacific action zone. First Japanese conjecture as to the super-bomber range of action, broadcast from Tokyo many months ago, credited them with a possible 10,000 mile non-stop flight capacity.

The new ships are closely linked beyond doubt with the timing of the new wave of American sea-air attack beating ever closer to Japan in the West Central Pacific and marching up toward the Philippines from the south with MacArthur's advance in New Guinea.

Gov. Kerr To Keynote Democratic Convention

By WILLIAM J. CONWAY

CHICAGO, June 15 (AP) — Gov. Robert S. Kerr of Oklahoma was chosen today to deliver the keynote address at the Democratic national convention.

The tall, chief executive of a border state was the unanimous choice of the party's committee making arrangements for the convention opening here July 19, and his name was the only one offered at the session.

The six foot, four-inch governor, who attended the meeting as a member of the planning group, told newsmen he was proud and happy, and added with a broad smile:

"I'm going to brag on the Democrats and invite the Republicans back where they belong. I'll tell the Republicans 'while the light holds out to burn, vilest sinners may return.'"

Kerr was selected at a parley presided over by Chairman Robert E. Hannegan of the National Committee, who held a forty-five minute conference yesterday with President Roosevelt.

Gov. Kerr, an advocate of a fourth term for the president, has been mentioned as a possibility for the Democratic vice presidential nomination.

Roosevelt Offers New Peace Plan

Proposes World Council Control

By HOWARD FLEISHER

WASHINGTON, June 15 (AP)—An American plan to keep the postwar world at peace through an international organization—backed by the arms of peaceful nations if necessary—was made public by President Roosevelt today after a year and a half of Allied discussions.

The administration aims, set out in a White House statement:

- Roosevelt Plan
1. On organization composed of all "peace-loving" nations, to keep world stability.
 2. A world council, elected annually by the participating nations, to settle international disputes. It would include "the four major nations" (presumably the United States, Great Britain, Russia and China) and "suitable number of other nations."
 3. An international court to handle justifiable disputes.
 4. Maintenance of sufficient armed strength by the individual nations to put down, by joint action, any future aggressions.
- There was nothing in today's statement to indicate the attitude of other Allies toward the White House blueprint, drafted after frequent conferences among the president, the State department, members of Congress and private groups.

In Congress, there were expressions of approval from a number of Democrats and Republicans for the principles proposed by Mr. Roosevelt. However, Senator Ball (R-Minn.) said it sounds like another League of Nations—without even as strong a commitment as was contained in the League covenant.

Mr. Roosevelt's statement was released after a conference today with Secretary of State Hull, Undersecretary Stettinius, Dr. Isaiah Bowman and Leo Pasovolsky, state department experts on international geography and economics.

"It is our thought that the organization would be a fully representative body," the White House statement said, "with broad responsibilities for promoting and facilitating international co-operation, through such agencies as may be found necessary, to consider and deal with the problems of world relations."

Salt taxes and monopolies form part of the Oriental system of taxation.

German Pilots Now Doing Better Work

LONDON, June 15 (AP)—The performance of German pilots and planes, outnumbered four to one except in occasional engagements, was reported by a veteran United States Eighth Air Force Mustang pilot today to have improved markedly since D-Day.

"I don't know what they're getting at over there, but they seem more eager to fight us than they did before D-Day," he said.

The pilot, who can not be identified by name, has destroyed seventeen and one-half German planes in the air, three of them during his fifteen missions since the start of the invasion.

Seventy-two cities in eleven different states now have anti-black market ordinances, according to information from OPA to the International City Managers Association.

Koppers Company Divisions Honored

BALTIMORE, June 15 (AP) — Two Koppers Company divisions in Baltimore received today the national security award of the United States Office of Civilian Defense.

Col. Henry A. Reninger, acting director of the Third Civilian Defense region made the awards to the Bartlett Hayward and American Hammered piston rings divisions. Col. Randolph Coyle, U. S. M. C. (retired), Bartlett Hayward supervisor of plant protection, and Edward B. Whiteman, director of public relations in the piston ring division, made the acceptances.

SUMMARY OF CLINICAL REPORT ON 82 CASES

A doctor who owns a hospital in Texas reported under oath that in a clinic of 20 cases of psoriasis, "not in a single case of this clinical group did I meet with toxic bad effects... intolerance or flare-ups... Colusa may be used near the eyes without danger... it relieves itching curiously. A little of the oil covers large areas. It is non-irritating. Soothing to raw and denuded lesions and affected areas. Easily massaged into the skin."

Two other doctors make similar glowing clinic reports—one, a United States Government health physician reporting on 25 cases, and the other a Mexican Government health physician reporting on 43 cases.

Soldiers Think Mostly of Home

Want Folks To Know They Are All Right

the bloody beach battle in our sector on D-Day want their sweethearts, wives and parents to know they are all right.

As usual, a soldier is generally more worried about not worrying the people at home than about himself and his first thoughts are of those he loves, once the greatest danger is past.

Capt. William Collins of Chicago was pinned on the beach by heavy enemy fire for more than four hours and somehow he came through it unscathed.

I saw him with his unit and he said, "look, will you just say for me, 'Dear Marge, I am all right. Will you?'"

I told him sure I would. Then wisecracking, cheerful Capt. Max Zera, who talks Brooklynese but comes from Manhattan called me over and suddenly became serious. "Mama's going to be awfully worried about me," he said. "She knows now that my outfit came in with the first waves. Just let her know that I am well and was not hurt."

Mrs. Zera, your son is getting along fine.

Sgt. J. B. Johnson of Port Arthur, Tex., looked up from a foxhole and grinned, "tell 'em at home I've had a happy birthday."

Traffic Fatalities Show Increase

BALTIMORE, June 15 (AP)—Heavy traffic fatally increases for May 1944 over the corresponding month in 1943 for both Baltimore city and the counties was reported today by the Maryland Traffic Safety commission.

There were 1,049 accidents in May with thirty-eight fatalities and 602 injuries, of which Baltimore city had 690 accidents, fourteen killed and 337 injured, and the counties 359 accidents, twenty-four killed and 265 injured.

A Free Lunch

UNION, S. C.—(AP)—Sardines, pork and beans, tomatoes and cake were the items of a free lunch raiders of illicit stills near here enjoyed.

The moonshiners were sitting down to eat just as the officers hit the hollow. Lunch, still and whisky were taken care of by the officers in that order.

Junkman 'Jailed' In Woodshed

PUEBLO, Colo. (AP)—The parents of Carolyn Sue Oliver, 9, failed to tell her they had sold some junk to a dealer who called while Carolyn was home, alone.

The dealer went to the woodshed without explaining to the girl. Believing him a thief, Carolyn locked him in and kept him there despite his protests until her parents returned home.

Liberty Ship Named After Dexter Fellows

BALTIMORE, June 15 (AP)—The Dexter W. Fellows, 349th Liberty ship built at the Bethlehem-Fairfield Shipyard, and named for the late press agent for the Barnum and Bailey circus, will be launched tomorrow.

Mrs. Fellows, of New Britain, Conn., will sponsor the vessel. A number of her husband's former associates will accompany her.

Fellows was advance agent for "the Greatest Show on Earth" for more than forty years. He started with the Pawnee bill organizations and then worked with the Buffalo Bill Shows before joining Barnum and Bailey.

A number of newspapermen and women, many of whom knew and worked with Fellows, have been invited to attend.

State Cash Receipts Show Big Increase

ANNAPOLIS, Md., June 15 (AP)—Actual cash receipts in the special fund of the state treasury on May 31, 1944, amounted to $27,042,353 as compared with the current budget's estimated special fund receipts for the present fiscal year of $17,332,949, State Comptroller J. Millard Tawes announced today.

This $10,000,000 difference, Tawes reported, had resulted from unspent special funds in the treasury which have accumulated since July 1, 1943. These funds were unexpended because of wartime restrictions on road building and similar projects, he added.

The comptroller said the estimated receipts for the general fund surplus approximated $24,250,000 but that actual receipts through May 31, totaled only $23,434,273. However, the fiscal year does not end until June 30 by which time this difference may have been met, he predicted.

Cash on hand in the treasury, including all funds, totaled $32,009,991 on May 31, representing an increase of approximately $2,500,000 over the previous month.

FROSTBURG, June 15—The closing exercises of Hill street school, held last evening in the school auditorium, was featured by a well prepared program including the Flag day theme, and attended by a large audience. Two of the new and delightful numbers were presented by the "To-nette orchestra" of fifth grade pupils and a glee club of fifty voices, both trained by Miss Mabel Myers, pianist.

The Rev. W. D. Reese, pastor of Mt. Zion Welsh Baptist church, gave the audience a pleasant account of his elementary school days in Wales and lauded the beautiful appearances, fine discipline and the enthusiastic spirit of the Hill street school. Mrs. Mary J. Rank, former principal for sixteen years, who presented the certificates, referred to the many improvements to the school, including repainting, hardwood floors, new school furniture and stated that the school was noted for its cleanliness and, best of all, for its corps of teachers, under Prof. John Manley, principal. The musical feature was the renditions of several violin solos by Miss Datha Thomas.

Old Cavalry Sarge Rides Shank's Mare

CAMP VAN DORN, Miss. (AP) — T-Sgt. George LeBlanc, 47, a former cavalry sergeant with 24 years service to his credit, not only finished a twenty-five mile hike but did it in five hours fifty minutes, fifteen minutes before the main body finished.

Sgt. LeBlanc could have been excused because of his age, but was determined to try it.

Southern Mail Gallantry

MARIETTA, S. C. (AP) — Postmaster J. Norwood Cleveland gives curb service delivery of mail to local ladies who drive up outside his post office. He believes this is the only post office in the United States where this service is performed.

Aviation To Be Taught In Grade Schools

BOULDER, Colo. (AP) — Colorado will teach aviation in grade schools. The Colorado university summer session is offering a course to guide teachers in preparing youngsters for an important part in the aviation age. The course will include the history of aviation, the structure and identification of planes, facts about airways and airports, civil air regulations, communications, meteorology and the theory of flight.

Mails Coconut to Wife

BRADFORD-ON-AVON, Eng. (AP) — Mrs. James Mould received a coconut from her soldier-husband overseas. The coconut came through the mail unwrapped with her name and address engraved on the shell.

Tamed Coyote Pet Half Wild, Half Free

RICHFIELD, Idaho (AP) — Bruce, half-dog, half-coyote the Frank Popes raised from a pup, is an odd blend of the wild and the tame. When the average dog is hungry he gobbles food, but Bruce refuses to touch any, the Popes say, until he has examined it thoroughly. Bruce can't bark; when he tries he gives vent to odd little "yips." But let a pack of coyotes howl at night and Bruce joins in full throatedly.

Electrical manufacturers expect a marked expansion in the future use of sports lighting, due to the emphasis that war has placed on physical fitness.

The Mosquito fighter-bomber has attained a speed of 350 miles per hour.

Captive Rattlesnake Commits 'Suicide'

CHARLESTON, S. C. (AP) — A timber rattlesnake in the Charleston museum committed suicide by sinking one of its poisonous fangs into its soft under-belly. This is the second instance of a snake poisoning itself at the museum. The reptile has been picked in its suicidal position and will be kept with other specimens.

Fire Flushes Hunters

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Two hunters, surprised beside a deer they had shot out of season, ran into a thicket when Game Warden Jimmy Lanier approached. He set the thicket on fire and arrested them as they came out. They drew sixty-day sentences in court.

U. S. Landing Craft The 'Luxury' Fleet

LONDON.—(P)—American landing craft infantry ships are luxury liners compared to the British type. The American craft have bunka for the men to sleep in while the British are provided with plain benches. As yet none of these craft rides decently in heavy seas so the trip across the Atlantic in an LCI or an LST is a sailor's nightmare. And most of the ferrying is done by green sailors who would probably object to the stately roll of a battleship or a superliner of peacetime days.

FIRST PHOTO OF "BLACK WIDOW"

THIS UNUSUAL VIEW of the "Black Widow" P-61, one of the first ever published, was taken from the rear at Hawthorne, Cal., where these deadly night fighters are built. Now in action against the enemy overseas, the "Widow" is literally a flying gun platform and is said to be the largest and most powerful pursuit plane ever built. The slim, twin fuselages behind the motors make the plane look like a P-38, but the cockpit fuselage resembles that of a bomber. The craft is equipped with Hamilton four-blade propellers; other details are secret.

Safe Light for Shells

WILMINGTON, Del.—(P)—A new portable light for safe inspection of shells in danger areas is made by attaching a rod of methyl methacrylate resin, to a handle of soft, non-sparking metal. Concentrated, shadowless illumination is directed from a low-voltage lamp by the rod, which does not conduct heat readily and therefore does not generate dangerous temperatures in areas where high explosives are stored.

Charlotte Greenwood Is Top Laughmaker

Although Charlotte Greenwood doesn't get a chance to do any of her famous specialty dances or songs in "Up in Mabel's Room," the Edward Small laugh-provoker now showing at the Maryland theater, through United Artists release that didn't stop her from keeping her fellow-cast members howling.

In one sequence Charlotte sat down at the piano in the "rumpus room" which plays so important a part in the film and doodled on the keys. Marjorie Reynolds and Dennis O'Keefe, playing a newlywed couple, were engaged in a violent argument. Miss Greenwood was supposed to say a few soothing words at this point and bring about the grand reconciliation. Instead the comedienne hit hard on the keys and in a twinkling was playing and chanting a little thing called "Mabel Wasn't Able." The open mouths of O'Keefe, Miss Reynolds and director Allan Dwan brought yells from the crew who had been warned by Miss Greenwood in advance.

Willkie Sees Danger In Labor Problem

By WENDELL L. WILLKIE

The problem of labor today is surcharged with emotion and dangerously sharp cleavage. Men more zealous than wise are trying to label the Democratic party the exclusive friend of labor, and the Republican party its inveterate enemy. The source of this theory is not difficult to discern. Labor leaders feel that before the advent of the present administration labor did not get a fair break, and that previous Republican administrations gave consideration solely to a business point of view. Today, on the other hand, many industrialists believe with almost fanatical intensity that the present administration sees everything exclusively through the eyes of labor and plays politics both with and within labor.

Love's Bird Garden

ARDMORE, Okla. (P)—Three winters ago Mrs. L. H. Love rescued a robin, frozen in the ice of a bird bath. Now each spring the robin returns and lives all summer in the Love garden. Mrs. Love says she recognizes him by a crippled leg.

Army to the Rescue

LEADVILLE, Colo. (P)—The flag pole above the post office needed a new lanyard but Postmaster Charles Fitzsimmons couldn't find anyone with enough daring to replace it. Finally he appealed to the Army's mountain training group at nearby Camp Hale. Two volunteers did the job expertly. "We're former timber toppers from New Hampshire," they explained.

Forty-year tests at the United States Fisheries Laboratory at Piver's Island, N. C., show that diamond-back terrapin can be bred as easily as chickens.

Modern Souvenirs

GUADALCANAL—(P)—Natives on this historic island have built a profitable sideline selling souvenirs to American soldiers. Their line consisted of grass skirts, shells, beads, war clubs and engraved walking sticks. An ambitious native brought out a new-type souvenir in keeping with the times: hand-carved models of the B-24 Liberator bomber.

Boston Sox Make Hits Count, Win Ninth Straight

Sockers Down A's 5-1 To Trail Brownies by Half-Game

BOSTON, June 15 (P)—The Boston Red Sox made all but one of their six hits count today as they chalked up their ninth straight win by besting the Philadelphia Athletics 5-1, before a 770 crowd, the smallest in several years.

Tex Hughson hurled the victory, his ninth of the season, which moved the Sockers to within a half-game of the top-place St. Louis Browns, who were idle.

After collecting two runs on his first two hits against Luman Harris in the first and fourth innings, the Sox staged their only offensive outburst in the sixth.

Bob Johnson set off the fireworks by belting his fourth homer of the year and, after Bobby Doerr doubled and Manager Joe Cronin walked, Skeeter Newhous tripped.

Hughson also limited the Athletics to six hits but kept them well scattered except in the fifth frame, when Irvin Hall poked out a Texas leaguer, gained second on an infield out and scored on Rookie Joe Rullo's single.

Pete Fox and Hal Wagner, who have ailing legs, were forced to sit out the triumph and Tommy Meade and Bill Conroy, the third-string catcher, replaced them. The box:

Baer May Try Again After War Ends

SAN ANTONIO, June 15 (P)—Smiling Max Baer, something of a jokester about most everything, sends word to Joe Louis that he's going to make a comeback in the ring after the war.

"I'll do the unexpected again, just as I always did," said Sgt. Max Baer, who is on a visit to Kelly field as a part of his tour in behalf of the physical fitness program of the air service command.

"Uncle Sam is training plenty of potential top-flight fighters," he said, predicting that the cycle of postwar champions would be drawn from veterans of the current war.

"If I had the A.A.P. training when I was fighting, I'd still have the title," added the former heavyweight king.

HENRY ARMSTRONG STOPS "BUMMY" DAVIS

NEW YORK, June 15 (P)—Hammering Henry Armstrong battered Al "Bummy" Davis to the canvas in quick order at Madison Square Garden tonight, scoring a technical knockout in sixty-nine seconds of the second round. Davis was down for counts of eight and nine in the first round.

Nats Topple Yanks To Capture Series

WASHINGTON, June 15 (P)—Southpaw Mickey Haefner scattered New York's seven blows as Washington edged out the Yankees, 3 to 2, before 10,089 spectators tonight. It was the Senators' third win in the four-game series with the New Yorkers.

Pirates Defeat Cincinnati Reds In Ninth Inning

Force Play, Walk and Elliott's Single Wins 1-0 for Buccos

CINCINNATI, June 15 (P)—A ninth-inning single by Bob Elliott, a force play and Tommy De La Cruz's only walk of the day gave the Pittsburgh Pirates a 1-0 victory over Cincinnati today to nullify the lanky Cuban's otherwise four-hit pitching.

Until the ninth, De La Cruz paroled out just two safeties, to Jim Russell in the fourth and to Max Butcher, his opposing moundsman, in the sixth. Butcher got his second single to open the ninth and was victim of the force out as Jeep Handley tried to sacrifice Handley advanced as Jim Russell walked and scored on Elliott's single.

The Reds blew several scoring chances while racking up eight hits off Butcher.

In the first, with one away, Dain Clay singled, waited as Max Marshall struck out, then started to steal but was run down. Two singles netted nothing either in the fifth or sixth, while in the seventh, Eddie Miller opened with a double that missed by inches being a homer, advanced to third as Ray Mueller grounded, but was left stranded as De La Cruz tapped to the plate and Woody Williams bounced. Lord Loudon Scores Charles Town Victory

CHARLES TOWN, W. Va., June 15, (P)—J. M. Roger's Lord Loudon, in a three-way photo finish, won today the Daddridge purse, featuring the second day of the Charles Town Horse Show Association's portion of the long meeting on the jockey club course.

Capably handled by Jockey Scotty Prain, Lord Loudon won by a head margin over Mrs. Thomas P. Lewis's Big Talk, with G. G. Waugh's Milk Chocolate a neck farther back.

H. Paulson's Roman Boy, one-time Charles Town sprint champion, was fourth in the field of seven. Lord Loudon, winning his second purse of the meeting in eight tries, paid $27.80.

The daily double paid $444.20 on the combination of Bombs Away, a $26.20 shot owned by Mrs. Mary E. Whitney and winner of the first event, and L. P. Bradley's Clock-time, the $37.80 victor in the second race.

NEW YORK (P)—Only two Kentucky derby winners have finished second in the Belmont stakes—Pensive, the last Blue Grass champion, and Aristides, the first.

The SPORTLIGHT By GRANTLAND RICE

Sport's Triple Contribution

Those who might be wondering about what sport is doing for the war fund should turn to the week-end card in New York. The schedule tells its story much more eloquently than any large bale of words could ever hope to do. Here it is—

Red Cross—The star professionals continue their tournament at Wykagyl with an all-star cast on hand in what should be one of the finest golf competitions of the year, played over a championship course. This Wykagyl tournament might break all Red Cross records with proper support.

War bonds—Sports are offering the war bond division one of the most elaborate pageants ever known at the Polo Grounds on Saturday night where the crowd can look upon almost every variety of sport. This will be a terrific show in every respect. Baseball, boxing, soccer, tennis, basketball, whatever you want. More important, it will give the home-town front a chance to back up our troops who are fighting and dying, but winning, in France, Italy and the Pacific.

Infantile paralysis—At Randall's island on Saturday and Sunday the National A.A.U. championships give fifty per cent of their receipts to the Infantile Paralysis fund, with one of the best track and field shows of many years.

There will be a speed test between Charley Parker, the 17-year-old sensation from San Antonio, Texas, and Claude Buddy Young, the flying negro from Illinois, who has been labelled another Jesse Owen. A high spot in every respect. Here you have one of the most spectacular dashes the track has known in years.

All and this is only a part of the big program that waits on ahead. Sport has already given the war bond drive over a billion dollars, and it has given the Red Cross and the Infantile Paralysis movements more millions than you might know about. And this isn't patting sport on the back. It is what sport should have done, since sport is one of the vital factors of the country's war front or home front.

There is no limit to what sport can contribute, since this country is the greatest sporting nation the world has ever known, facing the most critical period this planet has ever known since fish or monkey turned into human form through evolution's bizarre process.

Sport on the Home Front
It is up to sport on the home front to give out even more than it has given to date. Sport has done much, but it can do even more.

Many promoters tell us about the way England is handling sport. I wonder if they know that while England and Scotland are carrying on, almost the entire proceeds are given to the Red Cross or some war fund?

There is no sporting clean-up in Great Britain. There are no promoters collecting important money, from the testimony that I get. There are no stars raking in rich purses, whatever the game.

Those connected with sport in the United States have had a far happier and bigger break than any other nation has known.

In a way, you can't work against this. Why shouldn't they have the same chance that bankers, stock brokers, labor unions, lawyers and others have? I've heard many of these denounce the money made out of sport. But I've never heard them denounce themselves.

Sport is a tremendous business over here. In this war it has done its part. It has at least moved along on even terms with all the bankers, lawyers, stock brokers and others who rarely break into the public prints.

Sport could have done more. So could the others. But so far they have turned in a pretty fair job which of course doesn't come even close to matching what our fighting front has offered in the way of death and wounds, in the way of sacrifice.

This is what the home front has to match—and it is something the home front can never match, no matter what it has to offer.

The major job must belong to those in France, Italy and the Pacific. To those on the beaches—to those in the air—to those in the jungle or to those on the sea.

So the point is that neither sport nor anything else on the outside can quite do enough when it comes to a matter of money or labor—North American Newspaper Alliance.

59 Amateur Golfers Enter State Tourney

BALTIMORE, June 15 (P)—Fifty-nine amateur golfers, including three former titleholders, are entered in the thirty-six hole state amateur golf championship tomorrow at the Roland park course of the Baltimore Country Club.

Pre-tourney favorites are three veterans, Spencer Overton, Rolling Road club, Roger Peacock, Indian Spring, Washington, Harry Parr, III, Baltimore Country Club, and a newcomer, Capt. H. S. Covington, athletic officer of the Aberdeen Proving grounds.

Heading the group from Baltimore's public parks will be Ernie Caldwell, a former champion, Eddie Meyer, Lawrence Wisner, Chuck Beeler, Ken Scales and Joey Vaeth. Greenskeeper Bob Scott predicted that the recent rains will prove an excellent protector to the course's par 72.

The state amateur is being revived after a lapse of a year and for the first time in the twenty-two years it has been held, it is being conducted on a medal play basis. The winner will receive the Sherwood forest cup, and there are several low net and gross prizes.

Sgt. Vic Ghezzi Sets Fast Pace In Golf Tourney

PGA Champ in 1941 Shoots 67; Nelson Takes Second with 69

NEW ROCHELLE, N. Y., June 15 (P)—Sergeant Vic Ghezzi, army non-com. from Deal, N. J., paced a field of 110 starters through the first eighteen holes of the $13,333 New York Red Cross golf tournament today with a five-under-par 67, fashioned with a course-record 30 on the back nine.

The 1941 P.G.A. champion, stationed at an Atlantic City hospital as an instructor in the army's reconditioning program for wounded veterans, matched par on the first nine of Wykagyl's tricky and narrow 6,512-yard course. Then he blazed down the stretch with five birdies on the last nine—two of which would have been eagles had four-foot putts dropped.

"I was just hitting 'em on the nose all the way," Ghezzi said as he finished the round which gave him a two-stroke edge over Byron Nelson, pre-tourney favorite from Toledo, Ohio.

Nelson played steady golf to get his second-place 69. He missed par on only one hole, the fourth, but snared four birdies, all on putts of less than a yard, to go three under even figures.

Back of the two leaders, with sub-par 70s, came Frank Strazza, of Greenwich, Conn., and Zigie Mellon, of Bronxville, N. Y.

Six players were bracketed at 71, including veteran Gene Sarazen, of Darien, Conn., and Jug McSpaden, of Philadelphia, heavy money winner of the winter tour.

Others in the 71 class were Andrew Lapola, of Paterson, N. J.; Bill Kaiser, of Louisville, Ky.; Bud Lewis, Philadelphia's P.G.A. and open king; and Mike Turnesa, of White Plains, N. Y.

Sam Byrd, of Detroit, winner of last week's $17,500 open at Philadelphia, wound up in an eight-way tie at 74.

The field plays another eighteen tomorrow, from which the sixty low scoring professionals and fifteen amateurs will battle it out through eighteen hole rounds Saturday and Sunday.

Murray Favored In Monday Bout With Sheppard

Battle between Slugging Negroes Arouses Interest in Baltimore

By JOHN F. CHANDLER
BALTIMORE, June 15 (AP)—The ultimate betting brotherhood like Lee Q. Murray at odds of 7 to today to beat Curtis Sheppard, the Pittsburgh Hatchetman, in their indoor fracas Monday night as interest in the twelve-round bout surpassed anything offered here in any year.

The scheduled arrival tomorrow of the two slugging negroes, both rated high in the present day heavyweight crop, may easily shift the odds, and Sheppard backers say it's too early to worry.

Those are the gentry who have seen the Hatchetman chop down
the last seven Baltimore opponents, one of them by knockouts, including Buddy Walker, Big Boy Brown, and Tony Shuoco. Spaced in there was twelve-round decision early this year over Al Hart, of Washington.

Murray and Sheppard met here in 1941, the first time they ever were matched, and the Norwalk, Conn., battler knocked out Sheppard in six beats. However, Sheppard took two ten-round decisions from Murray later that year in Pittsburgh, and their fistic paths diverged until now.

Murray, holder of the Maryland
"duration" heavyweight crown, hasn't lost a fight in Baltimore in six appearances. His last local scrap was the August, 1943, state duration title affair when he kayo-ed Harry Bobo at Oriole park in eight rounds.

Lee Q. actually is rated third among the heavies now in action, while Sheppard, due to victories over Hart, Shuoco, Walker and others this year, is not far behind.
Sheppard says he can kayo anybody
he can hit with his lethal right, and his record would seem to bear this out, while Murray can induce sleep with either hand.

Promoter Lou Fischer, of the Century Athletic Club, says that with good weather the fight, to be held at Oriole baseball park, is expected to gross more than the $27-729 collected for the Murray-Bobo bout last year. About 10,000 fans are expected to jam the park's seating facilities.

Eagles Win 9 to 2

The Eagles defeated the Moose
9-2 in a Rucking Chair Softball League game last evening at Community park.

Dorothy May Bundy Defeats Pauline Betz

DETROIT, June 15. (P)—Using a borrowed racket, pudgy Dorothy May Bundy, of Santa Monica, Calif., toppled Pauline Betz, of Los Angeles, from her National clay court tennis throne by scoring a decisive 7-5, 6-3 victory today.

The daughter of May Sutton and Tom Bundy, both national tennis figures of another era, Miss Bundy advanced to the tournament finals where Saturday she will meet the winner of tomorrow's semi-final match between Doris Hart, of Miami, Fla., and Mary Arnold, of Los Angeles.

Miss Bundy stole the show from Francisco (Pancho) Segura, Ecuador star from Coral Gables, Fla., and Billy Talbert, of Indianapolis, who reached the semi-finals in men's singles. Segura downed unseeded Jack McManis, of Los Angeles, 6-2, 6-3, 6-4, and Talbert eliminated sixth ranking Hubert Manire, of Detroit, 6-0, 6-1, 6-0.

Grace Methodist Ten Defeats St. John's

Grace Methodist scored its second straight victory in the South End
Sunday School Softball League yesterday, ringing up four runs in the seventh inning on six walks and one hit to top St. John's, 12-11. The Johnnies made eight of their tallies in the sixth on five hits and four errors. Sidaway had three for four and Hauger three for five for Grace and Williams led the losers with three for three. The score:
ST. JOHN'S 003 008 0-11 11 5
GRACE 512 000 4-12 9 6
Thraher and Shelly; Harmon and Sidaway.

Georgetown Athletic Director Transferred

WASHINGTON, June 15 (P)— Georgetown university announced today the transfer of the Rev.
John J. Kehoe, S. J., director of athletics at the Hill Top since 1932.
Father Kehoe is going to New York to become superior of the New York band of the Jesuit order. He came to Georgetown after serving as athletic director at Canisius college, Buffalo, N. Y.
No successor has been named at Georgetown.

Indians Capture Overtime Battle

CLEVELAND, June 15 (P)—Cleveland's Indians ended their series all-even with Detroit today, when a two-bagger by Oris Hockett and a single by Paul O'Dea fashioned a winning run to give the Tribe a 3 to 2 victory in thirteen innings.

Paul (Dizzy) Trout's righthanded offerings kept the Indians at bay except for a two-run rally in the seventh, and the game-ending pair.
Trout pitched two-hit ball until the Indians bunched three singles and an error to tally twice in the seventh.

Detroit knotted the count in the ninth, on two hits, one of them a double by Joe Hoover, a walk and a long fly by Eddie Mayo.

Allie Reynolds started for Cleveland and yielded eight hits before Ed Kileman came on duty in the ninth. Joe Heving pitched the last three frames and won credit for the victory. The box:

The SPORT TRAIL By WHITNEY MARTIN

NEW YORK, June 15 (P)—We sometimes wonder whether or not the United States Golf Association, now virtually in a state of suspended animation, will be able to gather up all the loose ends after the war and resume operations with the same prestige it always has enjoyed.
Prestige as it concerns its tournaments, that is, since while the U.S.G.A. with every good intention suspended its national tournaments immediately after we entered the war, privately - sponsored events have been gaining in momentum.

The U.S.G.A. theory is that any national tournament today is not representative since possible winners are unable to compete because of service connections, and this in a sense is true, although you practically can count on your fingers the absentee players whom you would give any kind of a chance to win.

Other Side of Picture

The other side of that picture is that major league baseball is continuing and world champions are crowned despite the fact some teams that conceivably might be contenders are so weakened by player losses their chance are negligible. Maybe the World Series winner isn't a normally representative team, but it is a representative wartime team and the winner of a national golf tournament now would be a representative wartime champion.

The National open, of course, has something that no Johnny-com-mately tournament can match, and that is tradition. That always has been its forte, as from the angle of prize money it is something of small potatoes.

The real prize for the winner of the open, were he a pro, was the chance to cash in on exhibitions, endorsements and other by-products of the fleeting fame.

With the prize money today reaching unheard of amounts the pros are liable to get the idea some other tournament, such as George May's circus, is THE tournament, tradition regardless.

same as horse races are rated by the size of the purse and prize fights by the gate.

The U.S.G.A. has one sure way to bring its National open back to the top. That is to make the prize money exceed that of any other tournament. And another thing is equally sure: The U.S.G.A. will do no such thing. Why, that's nothing but sordid commercialism. The prestige for the winner should be enough, although the pros would probably swap you a pocketful of prestige for a $10,000 or $15,000 first prize, in cash.

We Repeat..

When it's hot and you're tired and thirsty
...there's nothing that hits the spot quite so well as a cold bottle of
"Old Export" beer.

Old Export BEER.

Farm-Home Hour Radio Feature Is Widening Scope

New Variety Show Will Be Offered Tonight on Columbia

By C. E. BUTTERFIELD

NEW YORK, June 15 (AP)—Except for Saturdays, the Farm and Home hour, six-day-a-week feature on the Blue for the last seventeen years, is no more. In its place starting at 10:30 p. m. Friday is a new series, the Homesteaders. The announced reason for the change is that the program is to be directed to all homemakers instead of just the farm section. General farm news will be included on a brief summary basis.

As Kate Smith is off for the summer to return in the fall on Sundays, a new show makes its appearance on CBS at 8. Headed by Charles Ruggles and Cals Daley, it will concentrate on variety and have Carmen Dragon's orchestra with

Today's Pattern

14-50

No need for buttons! Just wrap around pattern 9243, and you're dressed for busy days. Easy to make with cool capes or with sleeves. Pattern 9243 comes in women's sizes 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46, 48 and 50. Size 36, three and three-fourth yards, thirty-five inch cotton. Pocket optional.

This pattern, together with a needlework pattern of useful and decorative motifs for linens and garments, twenty cents.

Send twenty cents in coins for these patterns to The Cumberland News, 39 Pattern Dept., 232 West Eighteenth street, New York 11, N. Y. Write plainly size, name, address, style number.

Send fifteen cents more for the Marian Martin new and bigger summer pattern book, thirty-two pages, easy-to-make styles. Free pattern printed in book.

Flower Sprays

Here's a flower garden of everyone's favorites translated into simple colorful embroidery. Put them on blouse, basic dress or linens.

Colorful floral sprays—fun to embroider on linens or dress. Pattern 886 contains a transfer pattern of three motifs, 1 1/2 by 2 to 5 by 6 inches.

This pattern, together with a needlework pattern of useful and decorative motifs for linens and garments, fifteen cents.

Send fifteen cents in coins for these patterns to The Cumberland News, 39 Needlecraft Dept., 82 Eighth avenue, New York 11, N. Y. Write plainly pattern number, your name and address.

Fifteen cents more brings you our new thirty-two page needlecraft catalog, . . . 133 illustrations of designs for embroidery, knitting, crochet, quilts, home decoration, toys.

Thin Man Switches
The Thin Man, once a Wednesday night feature on NBC before it switched to CBS, comes back to NBC at 8:30 in the old All-Time Hits spot. Claudia Morgan continues in the cast, but the male lead is now handled by David Goehard.

MBS has been doing some changing too. Nick Carter now is heard an hour earlier at 8:15 and the Smoothies have been moved from there to afternoons at 3.

A Special War Loan program for CBS at 8:30 will salute the nation's volunteer bond salesmen, with pickups from New York, Boston, St. Louis and Spokane, Wash. . . . Another bond series, on the Blue at 1:45, is "A Nation's Monuments" in drama form. That for Friday will be "State of Koscusko."

NBC has scheduled these talks: At 7:30 from Chicago, Dr. Herman Kretschmer, new president of the American Medical Association; at 10:45 from Washington, Sen. J. E.

Fortress Lived Out Its Ghastly Name

U. S. BOMBER BASE in Britain (AP)—A crew with a weakness for a game of black jack christened their flying Fortress "Twentyone or Bust." They had no idea of the ghastly significance.

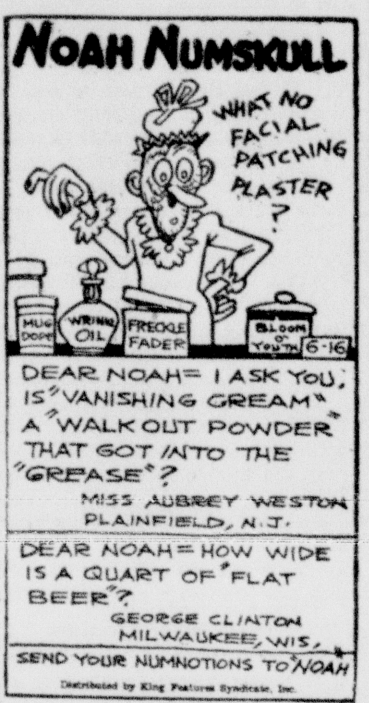

The pilot was killed on his twenty-first mission. A huge chunk of flak severed the engineer's right foot on the same flight. The crew was changed—perhaps for luck—but "Twenty-one or Bust" took off on mission No. 21 and was shot down over Germany.

A Mother Is Always Young and Fair

SALINA, Kas.—(AP)—A soldier at Smoky Hill army air field obtained a pass, explaining that he wanted to go into town to meet his mother, who had just arrived.

The next morning his captain said: "Soldier, if I didn't know you were with your mother when I saw you in town last night I'd have sworn the lady wasn't over 23 years old."

IN MEMORIAM

In memory of our Mother and Grandmother, Mrs. Mary Cable, who died on June 14, 1944.

Your gentle face and patient smile with sadness we recall. You had a kindly word for each and died beloved by all.

The voice is mute and still the heart that loved us well and true. As sister was the trial to part from one so good as you.

You are not forgotten, loved one. Nor will you ever be. As long as life and memory last we will remember thee.

We miss you now, our hearts are sore. As time goes by we miss you more. Your loving smile, your gentle face. No one can fill your vacant place.

Sadly missed by her Daughter, Mrs. Frances E. Butler Granddaughters, Mrs. Madeline Stallings Bretz and Mrs. Genevieve Guilford 6-15-11-T-N

Card of Thanks

I wish to express our sincere thanks to our neighbors and friends for their kindness and expression of sympathy following the death of my sister, Vivian Walsh. I especially want to thank those who sent flowers and donated the use of their cars and the police departments.

16 Local Firms To Provide Bond Writing Teams

Boy Scouts Will Inaugurate House-to-House Canvass on Tuesday

Sixteen Cumberland firms have volunteered to furnish bond-writing teams for the Fifth War Loan Boy Scout house-to-house solicitation to be conducted in the Cumberland, Cresaptown and LaVale service areas, June 20, 21 and 22, it was announced yesterday by Bradley S. Kehoe, chairman appointed by the Mercantile Bureau of the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce for this phase of the campaign.

Firms providing the teams include: McCrory's, Harvey Aronson, Peskin's Shoe Store, William C. Teubner, Rosenbaum Brothers, P. W. Woolworth Company, Lazarus, Inc., E. V. Coyle, Montgomery Ward and Company, B. Beneman and Son, Liberty Trust Company, Cumberland Casket and Suit Company, The Second National Bank, Sears Roebuck and Company, The G. C. Murphy Company and the Potomac Edison Company.

Troops To Work Own Areas
Employers will furnish a car and driver and typist with portable typewriter throughout the three-day bond sales campaign.

Each Boy Scout troop will solicit the sale of bonds only within the limits of its assigned service area, which will be in charge of either the scoutmaster, or some other adult appointed by him. The scouts will report all bond pledges to him immediately by telephone. Bond writing teams will be assigned to each troop service area and will be on duty from approximately 4 to 8 p. m. each day of the drive and until all sales have been completed.

Teams To Meet Monday
Kehoe stated that an instruction meeting for bond writing teams will be held Monday, June 19 at 8:15 p. m., in the Central YMCA.

In appreciation for the work being done by the scouts the mercantile bureau is furnishing a one week camp scholarship to the best scout salesman in each troop service area. These will be on deposit at the scout council office and a receipt for a paid-up week at camp in July will be awarded. Other awards are planned for the scouts, Kehoe said.

"Y" Will Respond To Army Request

Free Conditioning Program for Pre-inductees Will Start Tuesday

A conditioning program for pre-inductees will be inaugurated next Tuesday at 5 p. m. in the Central YMCA, it was announced yesterday by Oscar I. Bergstrom, associate general secretary.

This program is being started at the request of the army which stresses the importance of conditioning the men who are about to enter the various branches of the service.

"The army emphasizes that most of the men inducted possess good strong legs but many are poorly developed about the wrists, arms, shoulders and stomach muscles and the 'Y' conditioning program is aimed at helping correct these deficiencies," Bergstrom said.

The program will be carried on every Tuesday and Thursday with Eugene "Jack" Hopkins in charge of gym work at 5 p. m., and James E. Kelley, Jr., as swimming instructor. The pre-inductees will be given the use of the pool at 6 p. m.

Those who can't swim will be taught. This phase of the program is regarded as most important in view of the dangers being faced on the ocean in transporting troops by ships in the enemy's mine laden and submarine infested waters. The army stresses swimming for one's own safety.

There is no charge for pre-inductees desiring to participate in the conditioning program. Those interested are requested to apply at the desk at the YMCA for a regular membership for the special class.

Maddox Given Promotion By Telephone Company

Directors of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Companies, operating in Maryland, Virginia, West Virginia and Washington, have elected H. Randolph Maddox as vice president, secretary and treasurer of these companies.

As a consequence of this promotion, Maddox will move to the headquarters of the companies in Washington and assume his new duties today.

Maddox has been associated with the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company of West Virginia, and a resident of Charleston for sixteen of the twenty-three years he has been in the Bell system. A native of Princess Anne, Md., and a graduate of Lehigh university, he started his telephone career in Washington in 1921 as a student engineer. He succeeds Philip O. Coffin, who retires in July after forty years of service with the Bell system, most of them with the C. & P. companies.

Army Discharges Offered for Sale, Countian Testifies

Mrs. Robert Scott, Cresaptown, Says She Sought Brother's Release

A story of army discharges being offered for sale at prices ranging from $375 for one to $1,150 for three was told by Mrs. Robert Scott, Cresaptown, Wednesday in Baltimore before United States Commissioner James K. Cullen at a preliminary hearing of sixteen persons, including three servicemen, charged with taking part in draft dodging and army discharge schemes.

Mrs. Scott, a government witness, told Cullen she paid $655 and gave a note for an additional $190 to C. Earle Martin, of Hagerstown, one of the accused men, to obtain medical discharges for her brother, Harold Pfister, and another man who was not identified.

Rate Scale Stated
She testified she had received a letter from Martin stating the rate scale for such discharges at $375 for one, $755 for two and $1,150 for three.

According to Mrs. Scott's testimony, Martin, a civilian, advised Pfister to take a drug which would render him too ill for induction, but he failed to follow the instructions and was accepted. After her brother had been inducted, Mrs. Scott said, Martin offered to get him a medical discharge but Pfister was not let out of the service. Then, she added, Martin paid back all but $50 of the money she had given him.

Held for Jury
Commissioner Cullen ordered Martin held for action of the federal grand jury.

Some of the accused persons in the case are charged with making false statements to avoid induction, others are charged with conspiring to secure discharges, counseling prospective inductees in answering questions put by army psychiatrists or making false statements to secure discharges.

United States Attorney Bernard J. Flynn termed the case as one of the worst in his experience.

War Veterans' Rights Will Be Explained at Meeting Here June 22

Employers and employees will be acquainted with the rights and privileges of war veterans in regard to reemployment and rehabilitation training at a meeting to be held Thursday, June 22, at 8 p. m., in city hall.

Speakers will include A. Vernon Colson, state representative of the veterans' employment service; Michael J. Keating, veterans' vocational rehabilitation representative from Fort Howard, Md.; Grafton Lee Brown, assistant director of the state War Manpower Commission and Capt. W. H. Price, of the veterans' personnel section, Maryland Selective Service.

Deed for Transfer of Lutheran Church Parsonage Is Filed

A deed was filed for record in the office of the clerk of the circuit court Wednesday for the sale of the present parsonage of St. Paul's Lutheran church, located at 232 Baltimore avenue, to John J. Hafer. Revenue stamps indicated the purchase price to be about $8,000.

Donley Says End of War Will Mark Turning Point in Civilization

Past International Kiwanis President Speaks at Anniversary Party

Speaking at the twentieth anniversary ladies night program of the Cumberland Kiwanis Club, last night at the Ali Ghan Shrine Club, Charles S. Donley, of Pittsburgh, past president of Kiwanis International, asserted that in his opinion the Soviet government in Russia will drop the attack on the church from this time forward, and that this war is going to result in the renaissance of spiritual and intellectual life throughout the world. It will, when won, he added, mark a great turning point in the history of civilization.

"You and I may not live to see it, but within a generation I believe the world will turn back with increased vigor and faith to the philosophy of Christ and the other great spiritual leaders in whose teaching love, beauty, fortitude and kindness prevail," Donley said.

Character Is Important

The past international president declared that in great struggles between conflicting philosophies nothing is more fallacious than to base one's expectations upon pins moved back and forth upon the map. In time of chaos one must place faith in character. Given time, in an extended war, it is character that wins over material. "Forming my opinion on what I may have seen in other wars," the speaker added, "I have never doubted that Christian character would triumph in the present war. This war is potentially won today, even if the world must yet face years of fortitude and sacrifice."

Speaking on the subject, "Will Kiwanis Survive Postwar," Donley asserted that Kiwanis, and other service clubs, will certainly survive if they live up to their objectives and carry out the work they are trained to do.

The Kiwanis program is peculiarly fitted to take over the job of community morale building, Donley told the audience of 125 persons attending the anniversary meeting. He said that service clubs have a definite place in building character, and said that every objective of all service clubs today are being attacked by Germany and Japan.

Says Kiwanis Will Survive

Kiwanis will survive, the speaker declared, "because we are tied to a Christian democracy," and because the things we have been doing are tried and worthwhile. Another reason Donley gave for survival of Kiwanis in the postwar period, is its strong membership, not in number only, he said but because the membership of Kiwanis is made up of men of character, of men who build, and of men who are trained to help build community morale.

Donley asserted that there is nothing spectacular in doing the common every day things in life which help to build community morale, but added, that doing them is worthwhile, and said it is important that the service clubs stay in their own place and do the particular job they are trained to do.

"There is no competition in the field of building character," Donley declared, saying "that is why we must stay in it. We can't change the world all at once, but we can get men together, get them to thinking right, and when we do that the world will be all right," adding that "we will need men of character at the peace table."

Donley said that Kiwanis has the field and the program to do the work for which the organization was founded and said Kiwanis clubs throughout the United States and Canada are helping to build "Victory Morale."

Club Accomplishments
James W. Bishop, president of the club, opened the program by welcoming the new parsonage today.

Four Police Marksmen Will Vie in Sparrows Point Events Sunday

CANDIDATE—George M. Leib, of 722 Fayette street, is among the candidates for Maryland Department of the Purple Heart, which opens a two-day convention at the local VFW home tomorrow. Leib is commander of Mountain Chapter No. 166, which he organized less than a year ago and now has forty-six members. He is also general chairman of the department convention. A former resident of Hershey, Pa., Leib is employed as night manager of the cafeteria at the plant of the Celanese Corporation of America.

Clifton M. Smith's Funeral Rites Held

American Legion Accords Military Honors to Former Sailor

Funeral services were held at 2:30 p. m., yesterday in St. John's Lutheran church for Clifton Michael Smith, 435 Race street, 22-year-old Baltimore and Ohio railroad brakeman, who was fatally injured last Monday night in the Eviitt's creek yards east of Cumberland.

The services were conducted by the Rev. Richard L. Wittig, pastor of Emmanuel Methodist church, and the Rev. Edward P. Heinze, pastor of St. John's Lutheran church.

Interment was in Hillcrest burial park where military honors were accorded the young railroad worker, who was given a medical discharge from the navy in 1943, by Fort Cumberland Post, No. 13, American Legion.

The color guard was composed of Earl Brode, Truman Fuller, James Beal, Robert C. Hassall, Claude Deal, Wesley Abrams and David Johns. Joseph M. Pradiska sounded taps.

Honorary pallbearers, all employees of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, were Robert Miller, C. M. Kennedy, W. R. Orndoff, William McCall, J. W. Swick and W. D. Wasson.

Active pallbearers were J. R. Murphy, Jr., D. W. Dively, F. J. Madero, S. M. White, F. A. Trozzo, and J. B. Roy.

MRS. CARL HILLEGAS
Mrs. Iva Ines Hillegas, 23, of 315 Poca street, wife of Carl Hillegas, serving in the navy at Bainbridge, died at 4:30 a. m., yesterday in Memorial hospital where she had been a patient since May 25.

Mrs. Hillegas was a daughter of Albert and the late Emma Teeter Ines and was born at Flintstone. Besides her husband and father she is survived by two children, Clara Jane and Donald Eugene Hillegas, at home.

The body is at the Wolford funeral home.

Four Police Marksmen Will Vie in Sparrows Point Events Sunday

Marksmen of the Police Department of the Celanese Corporation of America's Amcelle plant will be among the 225 entries expected to compete Sunday in annual Maryland revolver and pistol championships at the Sparrow Point Police Department range, according to Roley S. Stanley, chief of the local plant police.

Chief Stanley, Carlton M. Lohr, Harold Kennard and James E. Kelley, Jr., will represent Celanese in the four-man team and individual contests.

Entries are in prospect from nine states and the District of Columbia. The entries include forty women competitors.

According to information from Baltimore, Warrant Officer C. A. (Smitty) Brown, of the Marine corps, rules as the individual favorite. He is rated a master by the NRA and is ranked among the best performers in national pistol competition.

The Quantico (Va.) Marine Base, which took team honors last year, again will be represented and other outstanding groups are expected from Parris Island Marine Base, Manhattan Beach Coast Guard Training Station, Free State Rifle and Pistol Club and the Maryland State Police.

The event is registered by the NRA and is made up of twelve matches.

Awards will be made for first, second and third places in each match; in addition, an award will go to the high scorer in the expert, sharpshooter and marksman classes. Trophies will be offered in the team matches.

The Sparrow Point range has been doubled in size and now has sixty firing points.

Marcus H. Miles, chief of police at Sparrows Point, is executive officer of the event. Sgt. George K. Shockley, of the Delaware State Police, is chief range officer.

A-10 Gas Coupons Are Valid until August 8

In the gasoline shortage area, in which Cumberland is located, there has been no change in the expiration date of A-10 coupons, which remain valid for transfer of gasoline until August 8, Karl W. Radcliffe, chief clerk of War Price and Rationing Board No. 231.1, announced yesterday.

The local ration board is now processing transportation ration tickets for the third quarter, Radcliffe said. Post cards will be mailed to holders of transportation ration tickets, telling them when and where to call for ration tickets. In all cases, Radcliffe stressed, ODT certificates must be presented to the board or distribution center.

Police Uniform Bids Awarded by Council

Bids of Schwarzenbach and son for furnishing police uniforms were accepted by the council yesterday. A patrolman's uniform, with two pair of trousers, costs $56.35, while that of motorcycle men is $56.10.

The Gear-Everest Agency was awarded a contract for fleet insurance at a cost of $718.62.

Whiteman, Reardon and Associates, Baltimore, engineers for the Municipal Planning and Zoning Commission, were ordered paid $3,000.

First Order Tabled
The first order introduced at the city council meeting covered the wage increase, sick leave and vacations, but was tabled by a three to two vote, Mayor Thomas S. Post and Commissioner William J. Edwards opposing the tabling. Commissioner Hunter B. Helfrich objected to the wording of the order and Commissioner William J. Edwards seconded.

Commissioners Helfrich and James Orr asserted that the heads of departments should have been consulted on the matter of the request of city laborers.

Mayor Criticizes
Mayor Post criticized the attitude of the objecting council members declaring, "I hope you won't sit here and have a strike over a few measly cents. You must wrack your brains and get more money. I will get some more."

Commissioner Helfrich declared that one group could not be raised without the others. Commissioner Orr said he was not opposed to the raise but would like to see a way to jump wages in his department at the same time.

The split orders were prepared and the ones granted sick leave and vacations were passed with a minimum of discussion.

After the defeat of the raise order, Mayor Post suggested that since all were in favor of the raise, some one else prepare an order, but no action was taken.

Engstrom Will Give Theory of Flight Course To Members of CAP
A course in the "Theory of Flight," will be given by G. W. Engstrom, aeronautical engineer at the Allegany Ballistics Laboratory, at Pinto, to members of the Civil Air Patrol, Civil Air Patrol Cadets, and the Air Corps Enlisted Reservists, beginning at 8:30 o'clock this evening. Lt. G. Wyatt Breneman, training officer, announces.

The course prescribed by the army for the reservists, will be given each week in the Civil Service room at the post office, and will be an approximately sixteen hour course. Lt. Breneman said last evening that it will cover the "whys and wherefores of the plane's ability to fly and the forces that act upon it." The aircraft structure as well as the aircraft power plants and aircraft instruments will also be incorporated in the course.

Eight Men Are Sworn Into Merchant Marine
Chief Alton P. Watts, recruiter for the maritime service, swore in eight volunteers for the United States Merchant Marine yesterday. Seven are 17-year-old youths.

The volunteers will be called to begin training at Sheepshead Bay, N. Y., in the near future. The group includes the following:

Jefferson P. Shobe, Route 3, city, son of Mrs. Lucy Shobe and former Celanese employee; Roy A. Henley, 150 North Mechanic street, husband of Mrs. Inez Henley and former Celanese employee; Thomas D. Kenney, 117 South Allegany street, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas W. Kenney, also a former Celanese employee.

Harold J. Miller, 445 Goethe street, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold J. Miller, former employee of Spoerl's garage; Clyde C. Myers, 221 Oak street, son of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick O. Myers, former B. and O. boiler-maker's helper; James E. Arnold, 525 W. Piedmont street, Keyser, son of George J. Arnold, former Celanese employee; Robert J. Platt, 407 Oldtown road, son of Mrs. Mary G. Platt, former Celanese employee; George W. Hinkle, 232 Oldtown road, son of Charles W. Hinkle, former Celanese worker.

DIES IN HOSPITAL—Hilary Lancaster, 67, of Frostburg, chief judge of the orphans court of Allegany county, died shortly after noon yesterday in Miners hospital, Frostburg, after being stricken Tuesday. He was a former postmaster of Frostburg and was active in music circles and affairs of the Masonic lodge as well as being an ardent sportsman. He had served on the bench of the orphans court since October 1937.

Council Rejects Workers' Request For Pay Increase

Sick Leave and Vacations for Petitioners Is Allowed

The petition of laborers in the city street and water departments for a pay increase of four cents an hour was turned down by city council at a meeting held yesterday, but the request for sick leave and vacations was granted.

The city workers had made their request for an increase of four cents an hour in pay, making their wage 70 cents an hour during the war, plus six months. They had set last Tuesday as a strike deadline but continued to work pending the outcome of yesterday's council meeting. Union officials declined to predict what action would be taken and no meeting of the Municipal Worker's union was held last night.

First Order Tabled
The first order introduced at the city council meeting covered the wage increase, sick leave and vacations, but was tabled by a three to two vote, Mayor Thomas S. Post and Commissioner William J. Edwards opposing the tabling. Commissioner Hunter B. Helfrich objected to the wording of the order and Commissioner William J. Edwards seconded.

Underwriters Hear Henry Millhouser
Henry M. Millhouser, manager of the Cumberland office of the Social Security Board, last evening instructed insurance men to guide persons with claims into the local office at least thirty days in advance of the retirement age of 65 so that they may draw their payments at the proper time.

Millhouser was the principal speaker at the monthly dinner meeting of the Cumberland Life Underwriters Association in the Central YMCA. He was introduced by Glenmore V. Rice, president.

The speaker reviewed the Social Security Act and listed those who are eligible for benefits and the amounts to which they are entitled.

He pointed out that inasmuch as insurance men contact more people in the home than any other group they are in a position to give invaluable aid to all persons covered by Social Security. In stressing the service to be given by insurance men, Millhouser pointed out that widows should be instructed to file claims at the local office as quickly as possible after the death of the wage earner.

The speaker answered numerous questions put to him by association members.

Forty-three persons attended the dinner.

Hilary Lancaster's Funeral Rites Will Be Held on Sunday

Chief Judge of Orphans Court Dies in Miners Hospital

FROSTBURG, June 15.—Funeral services for R. Hilary Lancaster, 67, chief judge of the orphans court of Allegany county, who died at 12:45 p. m. today in Miners hospital here, will be held at 2:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon at the home, 127 Frost avenue, with the Rev. Watson E. Holley, pastor of First Methodist church, officiating. Interment will be in Eckhart cemetery.

Mr. Lancaster became ill at Tuesday's session of orphans court, drove to his home here and shortly after noon was stricken with a severe kidney attack. He gradually grew worse and lapsed into unconsciousness Tuesday night. Wednesday morning he was admitted to the hospital in a critical condition.

In October 1937, Mr. Lancaster was appointed judge of the orphans court by Gov. Harry W. Nice to fill the vacancy caused by the death of John T. Dobbie, Lonsconing, Republican member of the court. Mr. Lancaster's commission was dated October 19, 1937, and he sat for the first time on October 22 of that year.

Appointed Chief Judge

He was elected for a full term in November 1938 and in 1942 was re-elected for a four-year term that would have expired in December 1946. Following the death of Chief Judge Bernard B. Young on November 24, 1943, Mr. Lancaster was appointed chief judge of the court.

An active Republican from his youth, Mr. Lancaster began his political career as a member of the Republican State Central committee of Allegany county and later served four years on the board of election supervisors. He was appointed postmaster of Frostburg on June 28, 1921, on the recommendation of the late Rep. Frederick N. Zihlman and held the office for more than twelve years.

Active in Music Circles

Mr. Lancaster was widely known in musical circles, was director of the Shrine band of Cumberland and served as director of the Arion band, Frostburg, for fourteen years, being elected director of the latter organization following the death of Prof. George Vogtman in 1930. Mr. Lancaster was also a pianist and clarinetist and once operated a music store in Frostburg.

He was an ardent sportsman and was largely responsible for the success of the Allegany-Garrett County Sportsmen's Association, of which he was a character member and secretary. He was also a member of the Eckhart Square Circle Sportsmen's Association.
